Customer Service Management in Africa Robert Hinson, Ogechi Adeola, Terri Lituchy, Abednego Amartey, 2020-05-07 Customer Service Management in Africa A Strategic and Operational Perspective 978 0 367 14337 4 K410515 Customer Service is Changing The message of 34 authors featured in Customer Service Management in Africa A Strategic and Operational Perspective is clear Today s consumers are no longer passive audiences but active players that engage with businesses at each stage of product or service design and delivery systems Consumer demands and expectations are also increasingly being dictated by changing personal preferences enhanced access to information and expanding digital reality The customer service principles strategic and operational advocated by these authors are universal but particularly compelling as they apply to Africa's unique and dynamic operating environment. In recognition of the importance of excellent customer service, this comprehensive and well-timed book provides an essential guide on the increasing role of the customer to business success. This book discusses the management and delivery of customer service under seven broad themes: Customer Service as Shared Value, Customer Service Strategy, Customer Service Systems, Customer Service Style, Customer Service Culture, Customer Service Skills, and Customer Experience. Advancing Customer Service in Africa. Central questions posed and addressed include: What is the new definition of customer service management? How should organisations position themselves to create value for customers and stakeholders? How should employees project themselves to align with customer service promises made by their organisations? Overall, this book provides strategic and operational insights into effective customer service management in Africa. The customer service management concepts, roles, and practices outlined, particularly as they apply to the African context, make it an important addition to scholars or practitioners' reference works.

Tackling Poverty Ebikinei Stanley Egoruzo, 2016-04-30. This study investigates what young people and community organisations see as their support needs in Bayelsa State of Nigeria in tackling poverty. It also examines the process of influencing policy makers using social marketing techniques. It seeks to expand understanding of the poverty elimination processes not only within a developing country's rural environmental context but also endeavours to generalize the findings more broadly. It seeks an inclusive approach to policy determination driven by involving grassroots levels. A mixed methods research design was adopted, engaging a quantitative approach in which 300 young people were surveyed using self-completion questionnaires. In addition, a qualitative study in which policy makers as well as young people and community organisations were interviewed. A discussion group methodology was adopted. Following the data analysis, a strategy conference was organized in Nigeria in which the major findings were presented and debated. This research has improved on the previous Multi-dimensional Poverty Index by enlarging it and combining it with a current Social Marketing Technique model. The new Multi-dimensional Poverty Index Implementable Joint Programme of Action model is user-friendly and retains the multidimensional paradigm. This extension was achieved through the literature research, the development of methodology adopting mixed methods approach, and the strategy conference. The main findings of the research show that young people and community organisations' support needs in Bayelsa State of Nigeria are far from being met. A great deal of additional support is required. The most significant causes of poverty amongst young people and community organisations are corruption of government officials, absence of jobs, low wages, oil pollution, and IMF World Bank conditionalities. It was also found that the main experiences of poverty include a high youth unemployment rate, lack of money to go to school, lack of money to start small businesses, less food to eat, no money to treat sickness, no money to buy clothes, no money to afford decent homes, prostitution, and absence of a public transportation system. The research considers the ways in which this additional support might be provided. Importantly, the research also revealed how extreme poverty could be alleviated and by persuading policy makers to create real jobs and job opportunities as well as developing employability skills and improving agriculture In addition there is a need to attract investors oil companies to Bayelsa State and to increase investment spending The lack of social infrastructure and access to free education steady electricity and free healthcare are also seen as problems Finally the research revealed that actively involving young people and community organisations in policy decision making and policy implementation processes including setting new priorities or re directing is likely to enhance the probability of ending extreme poverty
