His prize: A trip to New Orleans and a coveted press pass for the Final Four. It's a basketball junkie's dream come true. But the games going on behind the scenes between the coaches, the players, the media, the money men, and the fans turn out to be even more fiercely competitive than those on the court. Steven and his fellow winner Susan Carol Anderson are nosing around the Superdome and overhear what sounds like a threat to throw the championship game. Now they have just 48 hours to figure out who is blackmailing one of MSU's star players and why. Praise for John Feinstein: The best writer of sports books in America today The Boston Globe. The Last Shot Darcy Frey, 1996 It ought to be just a game but basketball on the playgrounds of Coney Island is much more than that for many young men it represents their only hope of escape from a life of crime, poverty and despair. In The Last Shot Darcy Frey chronicles the aspirations of four of the neighborhood's most promising players. What they have going for them is athletic talent, grace and years of dedication. But working against them are woefully inadequate schooling, family circumstances that are often desperate and the slick, brutal world of college athletic recruitment. Incisively and compassionately written The Last Shot introduces us to unforgettable characters and takes us into their world with an intimacy seldom seen in contemporary journalism. The result is a startling and poignant expose of inner city life and the big business of college basketball
