Good Practice Student Communication Skills In English:

Good Practice Student's Book Marie McCullagh, Ros Wright, 2008-03-20 Good Practice focuses on the language and communication skills that doctors need to make consultations more effective using five elements of good communication verbal communication active listening voice management non verbal communication and cultural awareness The course teaches learners how to sensitively handle a range of situations such as taking a patient history and breaking bad news as well as preparing doctors for dealing with different types of patients Good Practice demonstrates the impact of good communication on the doctor patient relationship and enables students to become confident and effective practitioners in English

Language Policy and Planning in Universities Anthony J. Liddicoat, 2018-10-18 In a world where higher education is increasingly internationalised questions of language use and multilingualism are central to the ways in which universities function in teaching research and administration Contemporary universities find themselves in complex linguistic environments that may include national level language policies local linguistic diversity an internationalised student body increasing international collaboration in research and increased demand for the use and learning of international languages especially English The book presents a critical analysis of how universities are responding these complexities in different contexts around the world The contributions show that language issues in universities are complex and often contested as universities try to negotiate the national and the international in their work In some contexts universities language policies and the ways in which they are implemented may have a negative impact on their ways of working In other contexts however universities have embraced multilingualism in ways that have opened up new academic possibilities for staff and students Collectively the chapters show that universities language policy and planning are a work in progress and that much further work is needed for universities to achieve their language goals This book was originally published as a special issue of Current Issues in Language Planning

Foundations of Informing Science: 1999-2008 T. Grandon Gill, Eli Cohen, 2009

Multilingual Education Yearbook 2020 Wenhao Tao, Indika Liyanage, 2020-02-27 This book focuses on the challenges of teaching in diversely multilingual classrooms discussing how these challenges and complexities interact in the preparation of teachers language content areas in and for multilingual settings and how they impact on educational processes developments and outcomes Teacher education in multilingual contexts is a key topic and occupies an important position in efforts to improve educational outcomes and quality for all stakeholders It is seen as essential for competitive participation in global economic activity and for providing opportunities to enjoy the benefits of increased prosperity Teacher education is generally expected to address both the demand for multilingualism and the challenges of teaching in diversely multilingual classrooms which are important foci at policy and institutional levels For example the demand for quality outcomes is manifested in state administered standards and performance cultures that regulate entry and practices and poses ethical and pedagogic dilemmas for teachers

This book presents high quality empirical research on education in multilingual societies highlighting findings that in addition to providing descriptions of language learning development and use in language contact and multilingual contexts will help shape future language education policy and practices in multilingual societies

Reforming Learning and Teaching in Asia-Pacific Universities Chi-hung Clarence Ng, Robert Fox, Michiko Nakano, 2016-05-06 This book focuses on learning and teaching as the core business of higher education and explores reformative efforts in response to the influences of globalised processes in three advanced economies in the Asia Pacific region Japan Hong Kong and Australia This is a significant book as it adds to limited discussions on the globalisation of learning debates and scholarly reflections on the links between globalised processes and changing educational practices critical to understanding the current challenges and options available for charting future development for universities in the Asia Pacific region and beyond It rejects an essentialising perspective that considers changes as inevitable and uniform Instead it considers negotiations arguments and even resistance as competing forces and integral components of the process of reforming pedagogical practices in Asia Pacific universities This book discusses globalised processes as a new context for reforming learning and teaching and its focused discussions cover topics including meeting the needs of new student groups new technological practices for change use of English as an international language and challenges in assessment and quality assurance

International Student Transitions Maureen Snow Andrade, K. James Hartshorn, 2019-06-07 US higher education institutions host more than a million international students many of whom speak English as a second language ESL As this number is projected to grow it is vital that new curricular and non curricular approaches to English language development are considered including rigorous evaluation processes This book introduces a framework to guide institutions in examining their views and beliefs regarding language acquisition and current approaches to international student success It makes a distinction between a philosophy of support and a philosophy of development with a focus on the latter It provides stakeholders with theoretical and practical foundations from which they can design develop and implement new models for students linguistic and cultural growth Application of the framework will encourage institutions to examine support models that have been in place for decades and develop effective processes for generating innovative programming and practices aimed at helping international ESL students achieve their educational goals
