Holt Biology Rob DeSalle, Holt Rinehart and Winston, 2008 Holt Biology Student Edition 2008 The Making of Human Concepts Denis Mareschal, Paul C. Quinn, S. E. G. Lea, 2010 Human adults appear different from other animals in their ability to form abstract mental representations that go beyond perceptual similarity In short they can conceptualize the world This apparent uniqueness leads to an immediate puzzle WHEN and HOW does this abstract system come into being To answer this question we need to explore the origins of adult concepts both developmentally and phylogenetically When does the developing child acquire the ability to use abstract concepts Does the transition occur around 2 years with the onset of symbolic representation and language Or is it independent of the emergence of language When in evolutionary history did an abstract representational system emerge Is there something unique about the human brain How would a computational system operating on the basis of perceptual associations develop into a system operating on the basis of abstract relations Is this ability present in other species but masked by their inability to verbalise abstractions Perhaps the very notion of concepts is empty and should be done away with altogether This book tackles the age old puzzle of what might be unique about human concepts Intuitively we have a sense that our thoughts are somehow different from those of animals and young children such as infants Yet if true this raises the question of where and how this uniqueness arises What are the factors that have played out during the life course of the individual and over the evolution of humans that have contributed to the emergence of this apparently unique ability This volume brings together a collection of world specialists who have grappled with these questions from different perspectives to try to resolve the issue It includes contributions from leading psychologists neuroscientists child and infant specialists and animal cognition specialists Taken together this story leads to the idea that there is no unique ingredient in the emergence of human concepts but rather a powerful and potentially unique mix of biological abilities and personal and social history that has led to where the human mind now stands A must read for students and researchers in the cognitive sciences Lewin's GENES X Benjamin Lewin, Jocelyn Krebs, Stephen T. Kilpatrick, Elliott S. Goldstein, 2011 Jacket The Handbook of Global Security Policy Mary Kaldor, Iavor Rangelov, 2014-03-20 This Handbook brings together 30 state of the art essays covering the essential aspects of global security research and practice for the 21st century Embraces a broad definition of security that extends beyond the threat of foreign military attack to cover new risks for violence Offers comprehensive coverage framed around key security concepts risks policy tools and global security actors Discusses pressing contemporary issues including terrorism disarmament genocide sustainability international peacekeeping state building natural disasters energy and food security climate change and cyber warfare Includes insightful and accessible contributions from around the world aimed at a broad base of scholars students practitioners and policymakers Stars and Galaxies Michael A. Seeds, 2000-07 Adapted from the newly revised FOUNDATIONS OF ASTRONOMY Sixth Edition STARS AND GALAXIES Second Edition contains the introductory and historical chapters from FOUNDATIONS as well as all of the chapters on stars galaxies cosmology and the chapter on extraterrestrial life This newly revised and updated Second Edition shows students their place in the universe not just their location but also their role as planet dwellers in an evolving universe In a clear and conversational writing style Seeds shows students how science works and how scientists depend on evidence to test hypotheses Through a discussion of this interplay between evidence and hypothesis the book provides not just a series of facts but also a conceptual framework for understanding the logic of astronomical knowledge Fascinating and vivid the book conveys the author's love of the subject shows students how the universe can be described by a small set of physical laws and illustrates how they can comprehend their place in the universe by understanding these laws and not through memorization of facts The book's use of mathematics is incorporated into the body of the text but the arguments of the text do not depend on mathematical reasoning allowing math averse students to easily follow the story Organizational Behavior Steven Kerr, 1979 Student Study Guide for Campbell's Biology Second Edition Martha R. Taylor, 1990 Study Guide for 31840 - Biology-First Edition Neil A. Campbell, 1987 Biology Cecie Starr, Sellers, 1996
