The screenshot displays an AI-powered writing assistant interface. At the top, there are several tone filter buttons: "Funny", "No filter", and "Serious". Below these is a text input field containing the question: "What is the difference between a home's appraised and market value?". To the left of the text area is a sidebar with various tone filters: "Calm", "Balanced", "Engaging", "Inspirational", "Practical", and "Assertive". The "Inspirational" filter is currently selected and highlighted in blue. The main text area shows the AI-generated response:

Market value is the price that the average buyer is willing to pay for a property and is a subjective number. Appraised value refers to the objective value of a home assigned by a licensed appraiser. These numbers should be similar, but if not, you can contest. Appraised value is a measure of market for a second opinion.
