Macrowikinomics:

Macrowikinomics Don Tapscott, Anthony D. Williams, 2010-09-28 In their bestseller Wikinomics Don Tapscott and Anthony Williams showed the world how mass collaboration was changing the way businesses communicate, create value and compete in the new global marketplace. This sequel shows that in more than a dozen fields from finance to health care, science to education, the media to the environment, we have reached a historic turning point. Collaborative innovation is revolutionizing not only the way we work but how we live, learn, create, govern and care for one another. The wiki revolutions of the Arab Spring were only one example of how rebuilding civilization was not only possible but necessary. With vivid examples from diverse sectors, Macrowikinomics is a handbook for people everywhere seeking a transformation of industry and institutions by embracing a new set of guiding principles including openness and interdependence. Tapscott and Williams argue that this new communications medium, like the printing press before it, is enabling nothing less than the birth of a new civilization.

MacroWikinomics Don Tapscott, 2010-10-01 The sequel to the international #1 bestseller Wikinomics, MacroWikinomics shows how mass collaboration is revolutionizing the way we live, work and create. The era of the monolithic, self-contained, inwardly focused corporation is over. In Wikinomics, Don Tapscott and Anthony D. Williams showed how the internet is changing the way the very smartest business managers think about structures and strategies in the 21st century. Now in MacroWikinomics, they demonstrate how this revolution in thinking is spreading outwards to other sectors from education and scientific institutions to entertainment and media to government and democracy. MacroWikinomics is a groundbreaking and definitive look at achieving success for a new century, a new media, a new generation and a new economy.

Sharing Cities Duncan McLaren, Julian Agyeman, 2015-12-04. How cities can build on the sharing economy and smart technology to deliver a sharing paradigm that supports justice, solidarity, and sustainability. The future of humanity is urban and the nature of urban space enables and necessitates sharing of resources, goods, and services, experiences. Yet traditional forms of sharing have been undermined in modern cities by social fragmentation and commercialization of the public realm. In Sharing Cities, Duncan McLaren and Julian Agyeman argue that the intersection of cities, highly networked physical space with new digital technologies and new mediated forms of sharing offers cities the opportunity to connect smart technology to justice, solidarity, and sustainability. McLaren and Agyeman explore the opportunities and risks for sustainability, solidarity, and justice in the changing nature of sharing. McLaren and Agyeman propose a new sharing paradigm which goes beyond the faddish sharing economy seen in such ventures as Uber and TaskRabbit to envision models of sharing that are not always commercial but also communal, encouraging trust and collaboration. Detailed case studies of San Francisco, Seoul, Copenhagen, Medell n, Amsterdam, and Bengaluru (formerly Bangalore) contextualize the authors' discussions of collaborative consumption and production, the shared public realm, both physical and virtual, the design of sharing to enhance equity and justice, and the prospects for scaling up the sharing paradigm through city governance. They show how sharing could shift values and norms, enable civic engagement and political activism, and rebuild a shared urban commons. Their case for sharing and solidarity offers a powerful alternative for urban futures to conventional race to the bottom narratives of competition, enclosure, and division.
