TOOLBOX TALK 3

SOIL POLLUTION

Soil contamination or soil pollution as part of land degradation is caused by the presence of XenoBionis (human-made) chemicals or other alteration in the natural soil environment. It is typically caused by industrial activity, agricultural chemicals, or improper disposal of waste. The most common chemicals involved are petroleum hydrocarbons, polynuclear aromatic hydrocarbons (such as naphthalene and benzo(a)pyrene), solvents, pesticides, lead, and other heavy metals. Contamination is correlated with the degree of industrialization and intensity of chemical usage.

The concern over soil contamination stems primarily from health risks, from direct contact with the contaminated soil, vapors from the contaminants, and from secondary contamination of water supplies within and underlying the soil

Causes

- Oil drilling
- Mining and activities by other heavy industries
- Accidental spills as may happen during activities, etc.
- Corrosion of underground storage tanks (including piping used to transmit the contents)
- Acid rain (in turn caused by air pollution)
- Intensive farming
- Agrochemicals, such as pesticides, herbicides and fertilizers
- Industrial accidents
- Road debris
- Drainage of contaminated surface water into the soil
- Waste disposal

Preventing Soil Contamination

- Buy biodegradable products.
- Store all liquid chemicals and waste in spill-proof containers.
- Eat organic foods that are grown without pesticides. ...
- Don't use pesticides if you can.
- Use a drip tray to collect engine oil.
- Buy products that have little packaging.
