Language Play in Contemporary Swedish Comic Strips Kristy Beers Fägersten,2020-06-08 This book focuses on the unexplored context of contemporary Swedish comic strips as sites of innovative linguistic practices where humor is derived from language play and creativity often drawing from English and other European languages as well as social and regional dialects of Swedish The overall purpose of the book is to highlight linguistic playfulness in Swedish comic strips as an example of practices as yet unobserved and unaccounted for in theories of linguistic humor as applied to comics scholarship The book familiarizes the reader with the Swedish language and linguistic culture as well as contemporary Swedish comic strips with chapters focusing on specific strategies of language play and linguistic humor such as mocking Swedish dialects and Swedish accented foreign language usage invoking English language popular culture swearing in multiple languages and turn final code switching to English to signal the punchline The book will appeal to readers interested in humor comics or how linguistic innovation language play and language contact each can further the modern development of language exemplified by the case of Swedish

Humour and successful children's films André F. Nebe,2023-05-17 Andr F Nebe uses his humour structure analysis to make viewers preferences and corresponding audiovisual offerings in films visible Complex and multi layered audiovisual hypotactic humour is used in the more successful films while less successful films make simple paratactic humour offerings The humour structure analysis offers insights into promising humour offerings and can also be used in the story development phase for writers directors producers and dramaturges

Italians' Perception and Reception of British Stand-Up Comedy Humour with Interlingual Subtitles Teresa Filizzola,2022-11-03 Doctoral Thesis Dissertation from the year 2016 in the subject Interpreting Translating grade Pass University College London Centre for Translation Studies course PhD in Translation Studies language English abstract If we look at the existing publications addressing topics related to the audiovisual translation mode of subtitling and the rendering of humour into another language we shall notice that there has been an undeniable growth within these branches of translation studies Nonetheless this statement does not apply to the specific field of translation of stand up comedy humour by means of interlingual subtitles The literature related to this research field reveals a significant gap especially when the focus is on how audiences respond to this type of translated audiovisual products and when the source language and the target language are respectively British English and Italian The present PhD project was designed to fill the aforementioned research gap and in order to attain this purpose some sketches selected from three of Eddie Izzard s stand up comedy shows Dress to Kill Circle and Stripped for which Italian subtitles are available in the official DVDs were played to a sample of 103 Italians based in Italy so as to observe their reaction In order to study the specific research field outlined above the project was made even more original and innovative by adopting a twofold methodology that combines the use of a survey questionnaire with the eye tracking technology for the data collection The ultimate aims of this research project were to discover 1 whether the import of audiovisual products involving British stand up comedy humour with interlingual subtitles can be deemed as successful in a dubbing country like Italy 2 the role played by factors such as age level of English and habit of watching video material in English in the Italian participants degree of appreciation of this type of product as well as in their attention distribution between subtitles and images and 3 whether a triangulated methodological approach can help to obtain more reliable findings

Intercultural Communication in Asia: Education, Language and Values Andy Curtis,Roland Sussex,2018-04-10 This volume presents in depth studies on leading themes in education policy and intercultural communication in contemporary Asia covering empirical as well as theoretical approaches and offering both an in depth investigation of their implications and a synthesis of areas where these topics cohere and point to advances in description analysis and theory policy and applications The studies address key questions that are essential to the future of education in an Asia where intercultural communication is ever more important with the rise of the ASEAN Economic Community and other international initiatives These questions include the properties of the increasing globalisation of communication and how it plays out in Asia especially but not exclusively with reference to English and how we can place intercultural communication in this context as well as studies that highlight intercultural communication and its underlying value systems and ideologies in Asia
