It is all too common to feel as though we are going without and to feel that painful sense of longing, wishing that we had more possessions or flicking through magazines and living vicariously through others. Programs like MTV Cribs, magazines about interior design and even YouTube room tours seem designed to encourage this envy and desire and leave us feeling increasingly dissatisfied with the things that we own. This is no accident as we will see. When life is tough and we feel bogged down, we often find ourselves thinking that if only we had more we would be happier. The irony though is that this idea couldn't be further from the truth. The reality is that you actually need less to be happier. By adopting a more minimal lifestyle you can create more space for yourself, own more attractive items and get more enjoyment out of the things you already have. appearance of their work but also to pay attention to the subtleties of form and color Still others think of minimalism in a more philosophical way claiming it to be the foundation for all creative endeavor Regardless of how one views minimalism it is apparent that it can add tremendous value to your home When you live with minimalism in your home it allows you to appreciate the simple pleasures of life You're less stressed out have more time to enjoy family and friends and don't waste money or energy trying to make art or literature out of everyday objects Because you're living a minimalist lifestyle you're able to appreciate simple pleasures like spending time with friends going for a walk in the park or enjoying that new cookbook you picked up at the local library This allows you to live a more enjoyable less stressful life
