

Environmental Science Chapter 11 Review

Water is a renewable source that is continually recycled. Water that is used ends up in rivers, lakes, & oceans where it evaporates and returns to Earth as precipitation by the water cycle.

Across the Earth's surface water is not evenly distributed. Flood, drought areas, aquifers are being depleted by pumped out faster than water can be replaced, and other water is polluted.

Environmental Science Chapter 11 Vocabulary:

Talking and Doing Science in the Early Years Sue Dale Tunnicliffe, 2013-05-29 Young children are intuitive emergent scientists they observe raise hypotheses experiment and notice patterns Most of our everyday actions at home and in other settings inside and outside have a scientific basis and it is through these early experiences that children formulate their ideas about the world in which we live This accessible book introduces the simplest form of the principles and the big ideas of science and provides a starting point for encouraging children to have an interest and experiential understanding of basic science and engineering It shows you how you can support young children in exploring everyday phenomena and develop their scientific language skills through readily available resources and hands on experiences Each chapter focuses on a different aspect of science and includes a summary of the big ideas to refresh your own scientific knowledge numerous activities that encourage young children to observe question and carry out their own investigations a useful list of everyday resources and relevant vocabulary Providing a wealth of exciting meaningful ways to promote scientific experiences and learning this highly practical book will help you to build on children's natural curiosity about the world and develop their understanding through your everyday provision in early years settings and at home
