Critical AI in K-12 Classrooms Stephanie Smith Budhai, Marie K. Heath, 2025-09-08. A practical guide for teachers and students navigating the complicated intersection of artificial intelligence, education, and justice. Artificial intelligence is rapidly integrating into today's classrooms, but unlike other new technologies, AI has the potential to harm, making it difficult to take advantage of its benefits. In Critical AI in K-12 Classrooms

Stephanie Smith Budhai and Marie K Heath draw attention to the biases embedded within AI algorithms such as those powering OpenAI's ChatGPT and DALL·E to guide students and teachers in developing strategies to best incorporate AI or not into equitable learning. AI's reliance on existing data and knowledge systems means Black, queer, those with disabilities, and other marginalized students are at greater risk of being harmed by built-in limitations and bias. Budhai and Heath show how to circumvent if not actively resist such harms as machine learning, NLPs, LLMs, and GenAI enter the classroom with practical examples rooted in culturally sustaining, abolitionist, and fugitive pedagogies across disciplines. Their practical guide creatively answers the concerns of educators committed to forward thinking yet fair instruction and the needs of students eager to use AI for just ends. Critical AI in K-12 Classrooms meets the challenges of a key STEM technology with an eye toward cultivating a more just world. Balancing responsible learning with the joy of discovery, Budhai and Heath build a framework for AI instruction that all educators can confidently use. Leveraging AI for Human-Centered Learning Marlee S. Bunch, Brittany R. Collins, 2025-07-22. Leveraging AI for Human-Centered Learning provides intentional approaches to the integration of artificial intelligence tools into middle and high school classrooms specifically to foster equity and social-emotional wellbeing. The overlap of AI with today's schools poses pivotal questions about ethics, morality, inclusion, and human learning at a time when students are already reckoning with public health crises, systemic injustice, and other connected challenges. This book helps teachers examine the pros and cons of artificial intelligence as used by both educators and students, as well as its implications for meaningful, culturally responsive teaching and social-emotional learning efforts. Featuring activities, lesson plans, and discussion and writing prompts for use with adolescent learners, each chapter offers concrete pedagogical approaches and instructional innovations that align technological changes with learning objectives in ways that advance rather than replace or neutralize attention to equity and wellbeing. Emerging Technologies and Business Development in the Tropics Nurhafizh Noor, Tan Kim Lim, Haejin Jang, Jacob Wood, K. Thirumaran, 2026-03-06. It has been reported that those who live in the Tropics find themselves on the wrong side of the digital divide and lack access to basic technological infrastructure, including internet connectivity. However, a closer look at the state of digital and technology innovation in this region reveals a more fragmented picture. Against a backdrop of needing to grow businesses and seek new opportunities to unleash the potential of the Tropics, the existing tensions and opportunities that technology brings to this region and the evolutionary change in business proposition and value chain, there is much still to be done to better understand these issues. With a Tropical region focus, this book explores the extent to which emerging technologies impact business development at nation-specific and regional levels. It unravels the diverse factors and practices that emerge through technological innovation and its role in driving business development in the Tropics. The topics covered in the book include diffusing innovations in the Tropics, designing digital customer touchpoints in the Tropics, synergizing operations and connectivity in the Tropics, and securing the future of Smart Tropics. Targeted primarily at academics, business practitioners, and public policy experts operating in the product and service economies this book provides theoretical and practical insights for anyone interested in the role that emerging technologies may play in business development in the Tropics
