Classroom Connect, 1998 The Emerald Handbook of Modern Information Management James M. Matarazzo, Toby Pearlstein, 2017-12-19 This handbook aims to be an integral text for students of library and information science and a ready reference for information professional practitioners. The chapters provide a construct through which any information professional may learn about the major challenges facing them in the early part of the 21st century. Psychology Dennis Coon, 2007 In a course where professors are frequently confronted by students who haven't actually read their textbooks, this text offers a solution. The shortest, most succinct of the books written by Dennis Coon, PSYCHOLOGY: A JOURNEY presents psychology in a way that sparks readers' curiosity, insights, imagination, and interest, getting students hooked on psychology and eager to read. The first author to integrate the proven SQ4R survey question, read, recite, relate, and review active learning system into a psychology textbook, Coon helps readers grasp major concepts, develop a broad understanding of psychology's diversity, and see for themselves how psychology relates to the challenges of everyday life. Because readers become actively involved with the material, they develop a basic understanding of psychology that they take with them into their future courses and careers. Instructor's Edition for Criminal Law Samaha, 2001-06 Proceedings, NECC '93 Thomas A. Brubaker, 1993 Criminal Procedure Joel Samaha, 2002 Joel Samaha is the best-selling author of three major textbooks in Introduction to Criminal Justice, Criminal Law, and Criminal Procedure. His success stems from his ability to present legal issues in a lucid and methodical manner. This text's success can be attributed to the author's ability to help the student grasp the complexities of the criminal justice system and the laws by presenting all sides of an issue equally. Samaha wants the students to understand why procedures are as they are, instead of simply memorizing them. This is a comprehensive and legally oriented text focusing on the law as it is written, not solely from a layperson's point of view. The College Student's Research Companion Arlene Rodda Quaratiello, 2003 Explains to college students how to navigate an academic library and research topics effectively, discussing the Dewey Decimal and Library of Congress systems, as well as periodicals, electronic resources, and print reference sources such as encyclopedias, dictionaries, atlases, bibliographies, and statistical, chronological, and quotation sources. Student's Companion to the World Wide Web Jim Millhorn, 1999-11-03 The World Wide Web is expanding at a rapid pace. This progressive growth has inevitably created a proliferation of sites and information sources that are posted on this medium. Jim Millhorn attempts to examine a small corner of this undergrowth in Student's Companion to the World Wide Web by focusing on outstanding academic and scholarly sites for students in the social sciences and humanities. While the Web is an invaluable source of information, students do not always know how to extract the information that they seek This guide can offer assistance This book expertly handles common reference sources search engines meta subject guides the humanities and social science disciplines which are arranged in an alphabetized sequence of chapters featuring each individual discipline An innovative and timely answer to the student s quest for information this book opens the broadest purview the Web offers on a specific discipline while simultaneously limiting the number of featured sites
