The Academic Avant-Garde Kimberly Quiogue Andrews, 2023-01-10 The surprising story of the relationship between experimental poetry and literary studies In The Academic Avant Garde Kimberly Quiogue Andrews makes a provocative case for the radical poetic possibilities of the work of literary scholarship and lays out a foundational theory of literary production in the context of the university In her examination of the cross pollination between the analytic humanities and the craft of poetry writing Andrews tells a bold story about some of today's most innovative literary works This pathbreaking intervention into contemporary American literature and higher education demonstrates that experimental poetry not only reflects nuanced concern about creative writing as a discipline but also uses the critical techniques of scholarship as a cornerstone of poetic practice Structured around the concepts of academic labor such as teaching and methodological work such as theorizing the book traces these practices in the works of authors ranging from Claudia Rankine to John Ashbery providing fresh readings of some of our era's most celebrated and difficult poets The Fate of Difficulty in the Poetry of Our Time Nicholas Nace, Charles Altieri, 2017-10-15 The Fate of Difficulty in the Poetry of Our Time offers original readings of poems composed in this century poems that are challenging to follow challenging to understand challenging to discuss and challenging to enjoy Difficult poetry of the past relied on allusion syntactic complexity free association and strange juxtapositions The new poetry breaks with the old in its stunning variety its questioning of inherited values labels and narratives its multilingualism its origin in and production of unnamed affects and its coherence around critical and social theorists as much as other poets The essays in this volume include poets writing on the works of a younger generation Lyn Hejinian on Paolo Javier Bob Perelman on Rachel Zolf Roberto Tejada on Rosa Alcal influential writers addressing the work of peers Ben Lerner on Maggie Nelson Michael W Clune on Aaron Kunin critics making imaginative leaps to encompass

Calling Natasha Trethewey Mexico 1969 Why not make a fiction of the mind s fictions I want to say it begins like this the trip a pilgrimage my mother kneeling at the altar of the Black Virgin enthralled light streaming in a window the sun at her back holy water in a bowl she must have touched What s left is palimpsest one memory bleeding into another overwriting it How else to explain what remains The sound of water in a basin I know is white the sun behind her light streaming in her face as if she were already dead blurred as it will become I want to imagine her before the altar rising to meet us my father lifting me toward her outstretched arms What else to make of the mind s slick confabulations What comes back is the sun s dazzle on a pool s surface light filtered through water closing over my head my mother her body between me and the high sun a corona of light around her face Why not call it a vision What I know is this I was drowning and saw a dark Madonna someone pulled me through the water s bright ceiling and I rose initiate from one life into another

Museum Mediations Barbara K. Fisher, 2006-01-24 This interdisciplinary study participates in the ongoing critical conversation about postwar American poetry and visual culture while advancing that field into the arena of the museum Turning to contemporary poems about the visual arts that foreground and interrogate a museum setting the book demonstrates the particular importance of the museum as a cultural site that is both inspiration and provocation for poets The study uniquely bridges the dual canon in contemporary poetry and calls the lyric avant garde distinction into question by analyzing museum sponsored anthologies as well as poems by John Ashbery Richard Howard Kenneth Koch Kathleen Fraser Cole Swensen Anne Carson and others Through these case studies of poets with diverse affiliations the author shows that the boom in ekphrasis in the past 20 years is not only an aesthetic but a critical phenomenon a way that poets have come to terms with the critical dilemmas of our moment Highlighting the importance of poets peripheral vision awareness of the institutional conditions that frame encounters with art the author contend that a museum visit becomes a forum for questioning oppositions that have preoccupied literary criticism for the past 50 years homage and innovation modernism and postmodernism subjectivity and collectivity The study shows that ekphrasis becomes a strategy for negotiating these impasses a mode of political inquiry a meditation on canonization a venue for comic appraisal of institutionalization and a means of site specific feminist revision in a vital synthesis of critique perspicacity and pleasure
