

Integers and Coordinate Plane Study Guide

1. The Number Line

Integers

All whole numbers both positive and negative

Opposites

Two numbers that share the same absolute value but are on the opposite sides of zero.

Ex. -5, 5

Absolute Value

A number's distance from 0

*Because it is measuring distance, absolute value is always positive!!!

Inequality

A mathematical term for comparing two quantities using $<$, $>$, or $=$

Students should be able to....

- write integers for real world situations
- graph integers and their opposites
- show a number's absolute value
- write or solve inequalities using integers
- recognize a number's position on the number line in relation to other numbers (Must know left and right directions!!!)
- be able to order both positive and negative numbers from least to greatest

If a number is to the left of a number on the number line, it is less than the other number. If it is to the right then it is greater than that number.
