, 1905 Popular Science Monthly, 1905 Categories Luke O'Sullivan, 2024-07-31 In ancient and modern Western thought the problem of the nature of categories has been inseparable from arguments about the nature of selfhood about how knowledge is organised about how power should be distributed and about how history should be understood For Plato Forms belonging to a timeless order of being played the role of categories or fundamental concepts for Aristotle categories were immanent in things for Kant they were a priori logical structures of our consciousness and for Hegel they were dynamic dialectical inter related ideas In Categories O Sullivan shows how these answers have gone forward into the contemporary era and identifies three key schools of thought that have developed since Hegel in particular He explains modern thought as a tension between a desire for a single dominant perspective whether scientific or phenomenological a belief in irretrievable fragmentation and an effort to find a middle ground The Westminster Review, 1892 The Readers' Guide and

Students' Review Hampstead Public Libraries (London, England), 1910 The Columbia Dictionary of Quotations Robert Andrews, 1993 Over 11 000 of these 18 000 quotations have never before appeared in a quotation book Chosen not for their familiarity but for their quality and their relevance in the 1990s these provocative quotations cover subjects from adolescence and adoption to yuppies and zoos William Blake and His Illustrations to the Divine Comedy William Butler Yeats, 1896 Modern Political Theory Varma S.P., 1975 Modern Political Theory critically examines the contemporary state of political theory making an assessment of the achievements and limitations of the Behavioural Revolution in its totality and reviews objectively the major paradigms and conceptual frameworks adopted by the discipline. The salient features of the contending conceptual models elaborated by leading scholars operating from separate locations and disparate premises have been highlighted and intellectual inter linkages in their works have been traced. The book has 3 parts. Part I comprises the scope of political science as a discipline. Part II deals with the tools and techniques of political analysis. Part III delineates mainstreams of contemporary political thought.

Man's Place in the Cosmos, and other essays ... Second edition, revised and enlarged Andrew Seth Pringle-Pattison, 1902 The Longing for Total Revolution Bernard Yack, 2024-03-29 Bernard Yack seeks to identify and account for the development of a form of discontent held in common by a large number of European philosophers and social critics including Rousseau, Schiller, the young Hegel, Marx, and Nietzsche. Yack contends that these individuals, despite their profound disagreements, shared new perspectives on human freedom and history, and that these perspectives gave their discontent its peculiar breadth and intensity. This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program, which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice, reach, and impact. Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893, Voices Revived makes high-quality, peer-reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print-on-demand technology. This title was originally published in 1992.

Dialogue Derailed Ambrose Mong, 2014-11-17 Joseph Ratzinger has shaped and guided the church's understanding of its mission to proclaim the good news, as well as to forge good relations with non-Catholic Christian communities, other religious traditions, and the secular world at large. Through a critique of Ratzinger's theology, this book draws attention to the importance of theological discourses originating from non-European contexts. Mong highlights the gap between a dogmatic understanding of the faith and the pastoral realities of the Asian church, as well as the difficulties faced by Asian theologians trying to make their voices heard in a church still dominated by Western thinking. While Mong concurs with much of Ratzinger's analysis of the problems in modern society, such as the aggressive secularism and crisis of faith in Europe, he focuses attention on the realities of religious pluralism in Asia, which require the church to adopt a different approach in its theological formulations and pastoral practices.

Does God Exist? Hans Kung, 2006-09-22 Does God exist? Who is God? And can we ultimately trust in any reality? These questions have been among the greatest subjects of human speculation since history began, but not until modern times has the reality of God been so strongly called into doubt. In this monumental study, written for men and women of all faiths and of none, Hans Kung, the most renowned and controversial theologian in the world today, first traces the rise of modern atheism in the works of such great thinkers as Descartes, Pascal, Feuerbach, Marx, Nietzsche, and Freud, and then demonstrates brilliantly and in terms that make sense to us today why a yes to God remains a more reasonable and responsible belief than its alternative, nihilism.

The Penguin Dictionary of Epigrams M. J. Cohen, 2002 There you are writing a letter or a speech or even just arguing with your friends when you think there must be a succinct way of putting this. Surely a single one-liner could do a better job than my own ill-chosen and long-winded words.

Thankfully we have the epigram that handy witty saying that closes arguments sets people thinking and generally makes everyone else think you re much cleverer than you really are The Penguin Dictionary of Epigrams is arranged thematically covering everything from birth and death knowledge and ignorance to marriage and divorce and madness and sanity The Quarterly Review William Gifford, Sir John Taylor Coleridge, John Gibson Lockhart, Whitwell Elwin, William Macpherson, William Smith, Sir John Murray IV, John Murray, Rowland Edmund Prothero (Baron Ernle), George Walter Prothero, 1896
