

MANDARIN CHINESE (Foreign Language)

Paper 0547/11
Listening

Key messages

In preparation for this paper, it is worth bearing in mind the following points:

- When answering in Chinese (whether characters or pinyin), full sentences are not required. Brief answers are frequently all that is needed.
- Inaccuracies of Chinese (whether characters or pinyin) are tolerated provided that the message is clear and that the candidate's rendering of the answer does not give a different Chinese character/pinyin word with another meaning, which might confuse comprehension of the message.
- Answers should be written in black or blue ink. Answers should not be written first in pencil and then overwritten in ink as this makes them very difficult to read.
- In exercises where candidates are required to tick a certain number of boxes, such as Exercise 2 in Section 2, candidates must not tick more/fewer than the required number of options. If a candidate makes a choice and then changes his/her mind, s/he must cross out the original choice very clearly.
- Although notes may be made on the question paper, any work that the candidate does not wish the Examiner to consider must be clearly crossed out. The mark cannot be awarded if the Examiner has to 'choose' the correct answer from a longer response provided by the candidate, which contains extra material that is incorrect, invented or contradictory.

General comments

This paper was found to be accessible to candidates, and the exercises discriminated appropriately across the gradient of difficulty in the paper. The spoken Chinese in the exam gradually increased in terms of difficulty and length, and questions moved from testing candidates' ability to understand short factual information to, in the later exercises, testing their ability to understand and identify opinions, explanations in narrated accounts and interviews.

There were many excellent performances from Centres all over the world, showing that Centres recognise the importance of listening skills and that these skills are being well taught in many Centres.

Candidates should be encouraged to write brief answers to questions requiring a written response in Chinese. Answers should be short, clear and to the point, as this reduces the risk of candidates adding extra incorrect material, which might invalidate an otherwise correct response.

The listening paper tests comprehension. Candidates are allowed to write their answers in either Chinese characters or pinyin. English and phonetic systems other than pinyin are not accepted here. Accuracy in written responses in Chinese is not an issue provided that the message is clear. It was noticeable again this year, however, that answers given in pinyin contained a range of inaccurate spellings. Although inaccuracies in spelling are tolerated, the message does need to be communicated clearly. In some cases, the pinyin spelling had so many mistakes that it was very difficult to understand, and it was unclear what the candidates' intentions were.

Candidates are reminded that when responding to a question requiring only one choice as the answer, as in Section 1, the mark can only be awarded if a candidate makes one correct choice. Two or more choices, whether in pencil or ink, cannot be credited.

Any material which candidates do not wish the Examiner to consider should be clearly crossed out.
