Anti-Consumption Hélène Cherrier, Michael S W Lee, 2022-09-01
In this edited volume the leading scholars in the field engage with consumers marketers corporations and policymakers as well as space dynamics and network formation to provide an in depth examination of anti consumption a voluntary behavioural inclination to minimise rather than grow to decelerate and simplify and to reduce the unnecessary exploitation of resources fuelled by consumer culture This book does not place anti consumption on the high moral ground but rather demonstrates its complexity to spur innovative and critical thinking on how people organisations businesses and governments can treat consumption more as a necessity for survival than as a tool for self expression pleasure and economic growth The first part of this book looks at anti consumption from a diversity of perspectives It analyses voluntary simplicity a self motivated engagement in consumption reduction and boycotting a politically motivated reaction against unacceptable corporate practices as distinct manifestations of anti consumption that nonetheless remain rooted in the logic of the market Paving the way to critical perspectives on the interface between anti consumption people and the environment the second part of the book projects anti consumption to issues of waste production and provides possible answers to global challenges of resources depletion social inequalities and global warming In this section anti consumption is critically assessed as an actor of change both in terms of social change and paradigm change To move the field forward the third part of this book presents several theoretical frameworks that help set a roadmap for future research Anti Consumption will be of direct interest to scholars and researchers within the fields of marketing consumer research business studies environmental studies and sustainability It will also be of value to those researching the economics and or sociology of markets
