Study the diagram of the isosceles trapezoid below and note that it contains several other quadrilaterals and triangles. Record the given information on the diagram. Then use this information and your understanding of quadrilaterals and triangles to find the measures of the missing angles. Write the measures in their proper place on the diagram, being sure that any measures you record on the diagram are correct. Incorrect measures may lead to more incorrect measures. You may not use rulers or protractors. (Hint: Record every measure you know even if it is not a measure you are asked to find. It may help you to find missing measures.)
