Three Theories of the Solar System

Compare and contrast the three theories of the formation of the solar system.

In the geocentric theory, the Earth is at the center of the solar system. The sun, planets, and moons revolve around it. This theory was first proposed by Ptolemy in the 2nd century AD. It was the dominant theory for over a thousand years.

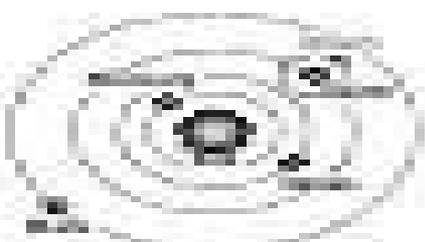

During the 16th century, Copernicus proposed the heliocentric theory. He stated that the sun is at the center of the solar system and the planets revolve around it. This theory was first proposed by Copernicus in 1543. It was the dominant theory for over a century.

During the 18th century, Laplace proposed the nebular theory. He stated that the solar system formed from a rotating cloud of gas and dust. This theory was first proposed by Laplace in 1796. It was the dominant theory for over a century.

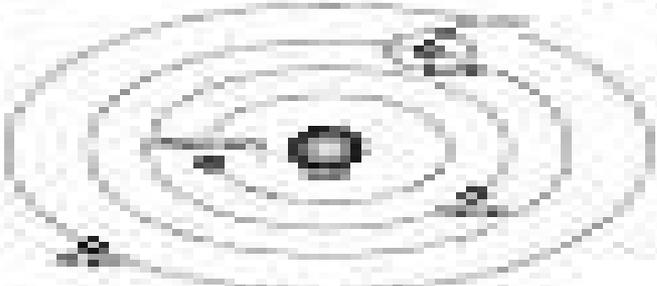

During the 20th century, the Big Bang theory was proposed. It stated that the universe began with a massive explosion and the solar system formed from the debris. This theory was first proposed by Hubble in 1929. It is the dominant theory today.
