positive remedial action on the part of Muslims. Such action might mean even the supreme sacrifice of one's life for the sake of justice. This book is an English rendering of a popular Arabic book entitled Adab Al Qadi written by the renowned Muslim jurist Imam Khassaf. In this book the learned author has favored us with the basic principle of the Islamic judicial system and that of the judiciary in the light of the Holy Quran and the Sunnah. The learned translator of this book, Justice Dr. Muneer Ahmad Mughal, was himself a Judge of the Lahore High Court, Lahore. He has perfect hold on the subject and over both the languages.

Sharia Tribunals, Rabbinical Courts, and Christian Panels Michael J. Broyde, 2017. This book explores the rise of private arbitration in American religious communities. It examines why religious communities are turning to private arbitration, why American law is agreeable to such arbitration, and further focuses on the proper procedural, jurisdictional, and contractual limits of private arbitration. The book argues that such arbitration, not only benefiting the religious community itself but also having various different faith-based arbitrations, is beneficial for any vibrant pluralistic democracy inhabited by diverse faith groups.

The Concept of Justice in Islam Safraz Bacchus, 2014-10-22. The book is laid out to outline the Islamic standpoint on justice and its high standard. This manuscript will attempt to clarify a major misconception that has gained widespread acceptance in some academic circles. The misconception is that the Muslim judge judges blindly according to a rigid set of outdated laws without giving due consideration to what is in the best interest of either the public or in upholding the rights of a person. Finally, it will seek to demonstrate how the ethical standards that govern the conduct and office of the qadi reinforce the public trust and confidence in the Islamic judicial system as a whole. Given that the Islamic judiciary does not have the powers of the sword or the purse, powers that are reserved for the executive and the legislative branches of government, respect is said to be the greatest strength of the institution itself. Islamic law requires a Muslim judge, hakim or qadi, to conform to the highest ethical standards both in their personal conduct and in issuing rulings that are just and seen to be just.
