songwriting magic formula See my author page just to the left of this description for a video of just what kind of vocal melodies you can create with the shortcut to melody creation We've all read books on songwriting or seen the questions where do i start or how do i write a song or where do i put my fingers next or how do i progress a melody and then you get the usual recycled generic answers such as fawm write a song every 2 days during the month of February persevere keep a hook book go to music college learn theory write for 10 000 hours don't go to sleep the night before you write a song because you'll be more creative when your tired etc you'll see these little snippets in books and scattered all over the internet But these are not the answers you are looking for Then you might do all of these things and find they don't work and you might even go to music college but then on your first day at college When your expecting to learn how to start creating vocal melodies The thoughts of why am i here start to enter your mind Abstract from bookPupil says to mentor I know you're going to teach me how to write better songs but how do I come up with the actual melody The mentor turns to the pupil and says well that's the million dollar question I wish I could just say sit there with your guitar do this and out will pop a melody But unfortunately there's no such thing as a magic formula This isn't true Let's blow the other myth out of the water The one where they say composing cannot be taught Well I've just learned you how to create 3 vocal melodies in a combined time of less than 15 seconds in the examples in the tutorial video that comes with this book 2 of them sold over 30 million copies Usually it only takes a few seconds to hear the new melody being born Now you can teach your friends and family how to compose a melody in less than 10 minutes Even if they've never composed a melody before And not just any melody but catchy hit melodies In this book you won't learn how to write lyrics or theory or any of the other recycled generic answers mentioned above But what you will learn is how to sit down with your guitar or at your piano do this and out will pop a vocal melody with the backing chords at the same time This book ends songwriters block in melody
