International Law and Sea-Dumped Chemical Weapons Grant Dawson,2023-04-27 Following the two world wars of the twentieth century governments decided to dispose of unwanted chemical weapons in the world's oceans. The deleterious consequences of this decision for the earth's precious marine environment are now becoming clear. As the issue of sea dumped chemical weapons cannot be contained by borders we will all have to deal with the adverse effects on our fragile planetary ecosystem. While states have made some efforts to address the situation unresolved international legal issues remain. International Law and Sea Dumped Chemical Weapons contains a systematic conceptual analysis of the international legal frameworks governing the remediation of sea dumped chemical weapons. Where deficiencies are found in the law legal solutions are offered. In addition practical approaches to the problem are explored. Furthermore the book argues that solutions to this environmental hazard rely on a holistic awareness and acceptance of how humanity's past actions have damaged our ecosystem. Aiming to bring about the necessary will to overcome this challenge this volume identifies and analyses the problem offers guidance and provides hope to the current and succeeding generations so that we can solve the problem of sea dumped chemical weapons and restore balance to our ecosystem. Sea-Dumped Chemical Weapons: Aspects, Problems and Solutions A.V. Kaffka,2013-03-09 This volume summarises the materials presented at the NATO Advanced Research Workshop on Sea Dumped Chemical Munitions held in Kaliningrad Moscow Region Russia in January 1995. The conference was sponsored by the NATO Division of Scientific and Environmental Affairs in the framework of its outreach programme to develop co-operation between NATO member countries and the Cooperation Partner countries in the area of disarmament technologies. The problem of the ecological threat posed by chemical weapons CW dumped in the seas after the Second World War deserves considerable international attention. The amount of these weapons many of them having been captured from the German Army is assessed at more than three times as much as the total chemical arsenals reported by the United States and Russia They were disposed of in the shallow depths of North European seas areas of active fishing in close proximity to densely populated coastlines with no consideration of the long term consequences The highly toxic material have time and again showed up for instance when retrieved occasionally in the fishing nets attracting local media coverage only Nevertheless this issue has not yet been given adequate and comprehensive scientific analysis the sea disposed munitions are not covered by either the Chemical Weapons Convention or other arms control treaties In fact the problem has been neglected for a long time on the international level Only recently were official data made available by the countries which admitted conducting dumping operations
