Sample AP English Language and Composition Exam Questions

The following multiple-choice and free-response exam questions are typical of those used on past AP English Language and Composition Exams.

Sample Multiple-Choice Questions

Questions 1–11. Read the following passage carefully before you choose your answers.
This passage is excerpted from an essay written in nineteenth-century England.

It has been well said that the highest aim in education is analogous to the highest aim in mathematics, namely, to obtain not results but Line powers, not particular solutions, but the means by 5 which endless solutions may be wrought. He is the most effective educator who aims less at perfecting specific acquirements than at producing that mental condition which renders acquirements easy, and leads to their useful application, who does not seek to make 10 his pupils moral by enjoining particular courses of action, but by bringing into activity the feelings and sympathies that must issue in noble action. On the same ground it may be said that the most effective writer is not he who announces a particular discovery, 15 who convinces men of a particular conclusion, who demonstrates that this measure is right and that measure wrong, but he who rouses in others the activities that must issue in discovery, who awakes men from their indifference to the right and the 20 wrong, who nerves their energies to seek for the truth and live up to it at whatever cost. The influence of such a writer is dynamic. He does not teach men how to use sword and musket, but he inspires their souls with courage and sends a strong will into their 25 muscles. He does not, perhaps, enrich your stock of data, but he clears away the film from your eyes that you may search for data to some purpose. He does not, perhaps, convince you, but he strikes you, undeceives you, animates you. You are not directly 30 fed by his books, but you are braced as by a walk up to an alpine summit, and yet subdued to calm and reverence as by the sublime things to be seen from that summit.
