Bioarchaeologists Speak Out Jane E. Buikstra, 2018-10-26 Bioarchaeologists who study human remains in ancient historic and contemporary settings are securely anchored within anthropology as anthropologists yet they have not taken on the pundits the way other subdisciplines within anthropology have Popular science authors frequently and selectively use bioarchaeological data on demography disease violence migration and diet to buttress their poorly formed arguments about general trends in human behavior and health beginning with our earliest ancestors While bioarchaeologists are experts on these subjects bioarchaeology and bioarchaeological approaches have largely remained invisible to the public eye Current issues such as climate change droughts warfare violence famine and the effects of disease are media mainstays and are subjects familiar to bioarchaeologists many of whom have empirical data and informed viewpoints both for topical exploration and also for predictions based on human behavior in deep time The contributions in this volume will explore the how and where the data has been misused present new ways of using evidence in the service of making new discoveries and demonstrate ways that our long term interdisciplinarity lends itself to transdisciplinary wisdom We also consider possible reasons for bioarchaeological invisibility and offer advice concerning the absolute necessity of bioarchaeologists speaking out through social media El-Hi Textbooks and Serials in Print ,2006 Ski ,1980-09 The New "divers Speak Out" ...
