After learning the lesson students should be able to

- A. Describe the major functions of Production Management Systems under Level 3 Automation
- B. Describe the major features of a Supervisory Control System under Level 2 Automation
- C. Describe the major features of a Distributed Control System (DCS)

Introduction

The major activities that define the manufacturing enterprise in direct relation to the manufacturing of products include (i) Production Management, and (ii) Manufacturing. The first function is incorporated in Level 3 automation while the second one refers to Level 1 and Level 2 functions of a hierarchical Industrial Automation System. In the earlier lessons of this course we have predominantly been concerned with Level 1 Automation for manufacturing. In this lesson we briefly discuss these other aspects and particularly Level 2 and Level 3 Automation in more detail below. Finally a typical implementation of the functionality of Level 2 and 3 automation, under the technological platform known as Distributed Control Systems (DCS).

Level 3 Automation: Production Management

The role of production management is to plan and control effectively the physical and operational resources of the manufacturing plant such as, materials, tools, fixtures, machines, storage space, material handling equipment, and manpower, so as to meet the production requirements. Production management is also referred to as Production Planning and Control. As the name implies, it comprises two functions, namely, Production Planning and Production Control.

Production planning is concerned with: (1) deciding on the set of products to be manufactured, along with their production volumes, over a certain duration which is called the planning horizon; (2) scheduling, i.e., determining the sequence of production of the set of parts and products over the time duration and (3) allocation of the necessary manpower, raw material and equipment resources needed to accomplish the production plan. Activities within the scope of production planning include the following.

- Aggregate production planning. This involves determination of the target production output levels. The word aggregate means that planning is conducted at a gross level to meet the total demand collected over all products consolidated into product groups, utilizing the total human, equipment and material resources. These plans must be made in cognizance of various functions of the firm other than manufacturing, such as product design, production, inventory, marketing, and sales for the plan to be feasible and effective for the overall business objectives of a firm. Further, it must be made based on an accurate forecast of the demand for the products.
- Master production planning. In the next stage, the aggregate production plan must be detailed into a master production schedule (MPS), which includes specification of target production volumes of individual product types and their production schedules. In turn,
