Philosophical Imagination and Cultural Memory Patricia Cook,1993 Does philosophy have a future Postmodern thought with its rejection of claims to absolute truth or moral objectivity would seem to put the philosophical enterprise in jeopardy In this volume some of today s most influential thinkers face the question of philosophy s future and find an answer in its past Their efforts show how historical traditions are currently being appropriated by philosophy how some of the most provocative questions confronted by philosophers are given their impetus and direction by cultural memory Unlike analytic philosophy a discipline supposedly liberated from any manifestation of cultural memory the movement represented by these essays demonstrates how the inquiries narratives traditions and events of our cultural past can mediate some of the most interesting exercises of the present day philosophical imagination Attesting to the power of historical tradition to enhance and redirect the prospects of philosophy these essays exemplify a new mode of doing philosophy The product of a National Endowment for the Humanities Summer Institute in 1990 it is the task of this book to show that history can be reclaimed by philosophy and resurrected in postmodernity Contributors George Allan Eva T H Brann Arthur C Danto Lynn S Joy George L Kline George R Lucas Jr Alasdair MacIntyre Robert C Neville John Rickard Stanley Rosen J B Scheenwind Donald Phillip Verene Catalogue Rutgers University,1907 History of the Problems of Philosophy Paul Janet,Gabriel Séailles,1902

A Realist Theory of Art History Ian Verstegen,2013-01-03 As the theoretical alignments within academia shift this book introduces a surprising variety of realism to abolish the old positivist theory dichotomy that has haunted Art History Demanding frankly the referential detachment of the objects under study the book proposes a stratified multi causal account of art history that addresses postmodern concerns while saving it from its errors of self refutation Building from the very basic distinction between intransitive being and transitive knowing objects can be affirmed as real while our knowledge of them is held to be fallible Several focused chapters address basic problems while introducing philosophical reflection into art history These include basic ontological distinctions between society and culture general and special history the discontinuity of cultural objects the importance of definition for special history scales facets and fiat objects as forms of historical structure the nature of evidence and proof historical truth and controversies Stressing Critical Realism as the stratified multi causal approach needed for productive research today in the academy this book creates the subject of the ontology of art history and sets aside a theoretical space for metaphysical reflection thus clarifying the usually muddy distinction between theory methodology and historiography in art history
