The Msc Rina Services:

Web-Based Education in the Human Services Richard Schoech, Brenda Moore, Robert James Macfadden, Marilyn Herie, 2014-02-25 A much needed look at innovative and effective methods for creating virtual learning environments for human services Web Based Education in the Human Services reflects the vitality and diversity of Web based courses currently delivered within human services Unlike previous texts that have combined technologies such as Interactive Television ITV and two way audio where Web involvement was minimal this unique book focuses on Web based models tools and techniques used in courses where the majority of the content is delivered online The book s contributors emphasize the social aspects of learning examining topical areas not usually associated with Web based education as they remind us of the need to move beyond the similarities between WBE and face to face FTF approaches Web Based Education in the Human Services documents a course delivery method coming of age in its desire to create virtual learning environments that incorporate a variety of techniques and strategies These environments use concepts and tools beyond what packages such as WebCT currently offer highlighting the power of designing a complete Web based curriculum rather than viewing each course separately Many of the most successful approaches presented in this invaluable book don t involve sophisticated tools or programming but the creative design of interactive scenarios emotional content and feedback mechanisms that reinforce the instructor s role as the crucial ingredient for success Web Based Education in the Human Services examines adult learning theories teaching practice skills through Web based technology how to bridge the gap between theory and practice faculty perceptions of the effectiveness of Web based instruction compared to face to face instruction the accessibility of Web based education the significance of emotion in learning Web based delivery of a graduate professional training program the creation delivery and evaluation of a pilot course using Blackboard 6 the development of a Web based undergraduate child welfare course the use of Web based video clips for counselor skills training the design development pilot and revision of a Web based social work practice course an online format for agency based field instruction the design of a Web based graduate program in counseling psychology and much more Web Based Education in the Human Services is an invaluable resource for social work and human services educators including education nursing and psychology Web course developers and college and university administrators

Business Responsibility and Sustainability in India Bimal Arora, Pawan Budhwar, Divya Jyoti, 2019-05-28 On the backdrop of the institutionalisation of corporate social responsibility CSR and sustainability and the emergence of multi stakeholder driven voluntary regulation this timely collection places special emphasis on India and explores its international voluntary sustainability standards The authors analyse the adoption and implementation of voluntary governance initiatives across a range of industries offering insightful sectoral discussion and evaluation of voluntary sustainability standards as forms of transnational private regulation This book will be of interest to anyone researching CSR sustainability and supply chain management in emerging markets

Seaports in International Law

Marco Casagrande,2017-07-11 This is the first book to offer a comprehensive overview of modern seaports from a legal perspective Further it provides a basic toolkit for establishing a legal doctrine of seaports the instruments of said toolkit being the very few legal norms specifically targeting seaports which are examined as such rather than through the lens of other more established disciplines such as the law of the sea or transportation law It is a first necessary step toward giving seaports the status they rightfully deserve in legal studies Despite centuries of international law studies and decades of EU law evolution seaports have remained stuck in limbo From a law of the sea perspective seaports belong to the land an approach that is often clearly reflected in national maritime legislation The other branches of international law do not focus on seaports since they are considered to belong to the sea The port communities for their part have availed themselves of the port specificity concept In recent decades containerization has transformed ports into key hubs of the globalized economy but also into vital checkpoints of the War on Terror due to the security risks posed by the millions of sealed containers circulating worldwide Moreover tragic maritime incidents have shown that seaports are the only reliable sentinels of the seas being the only places where the systematic inspection of ships is feasible This has led to the adoption of specific international and EU rules Those rules however remain fragmented highly specialized and technical as such they are unsuitable for creating an organic legal seaport regime this objective can only be achieved with a significant contribution from legal doctrine

Technology and Science for the Ships of the Future Enrico Rizzuto,Valerio Ruggiero,2022-09-15 The oceans are a key resource for transportation energy and material extraction and food production representing one of the most important environments on the planet Technological developments enabling us to exploit marine resources in a sustainable way are therefore of the greatest importance This book presents the proceedings of the NAV 2022 conference held in Genoa and La Spezia Italy from 15 to 17 June 2022 The conference is held every 3 years attracting specialists in marine technology from all over the world NAV 2022 was the 20th edition of the conference and covered a full spectrum of maritime technology themes all related to the exploitation of sea resources The book contains 87 scientific papers covering subjects ranging from comfort on board to conceptual and practical ship design deep sea mining and marine robotics protection of the environment renewable marine energy design and engineering of offshore vessels digitalization and cyber security unmanned vehicles yacht and pleasure craft design and inland waterway vessels Providing a comprehensive coverage of the latest scientific and technical maritime issues the book will be of interest to all those involved in this vital global industry
