Shaking the Gates of Hell Sharon Delgado, 2020-01-07 Shaking the Gates of Hell Faith Led Resistance to Corporate Globalization breaks new ground by describing the global economy and its effects from the perspective of an integrated theology of the earth as primary revelation and the institutional powers of this world. It reaches the conclusion that hope lies in nonviolent resistance and ecological and social responsibility based on God's action in Jesus and in the triumph of God over the powers. This book describes today's interrelated social economic and ecological crises and makes the case that we face a living hell on earth if we do not address them. It provides an overview of the global economic system and offers a comprehensive theological analysis of the network of primary institutions that make up what Walter Wink calls the Domination System. It points readers in the direction of hope based on following the way of Jesus who lived in nonviolent resistance to the powers of his day. This new revised edition continues the powerful story of the original extending the analysis of the global economy from the 2008 collapse and recession to its alleged recovery. It addresses the Obama administration's policies on economics, trade and the environment and provides further reflections on American foreign and military policy in this so-called New American Century.

Freedom from Fear, Freedom from Want Robert J. Hanlon, Kenneth Christie, 2016-01-01 Human Trafficking Natividad Gutiérrez Chong, Jenny B Clark, 2017-09-13 In the post Cold War era economic globalization has resulted in the buying and selling of human beings. Poverty, social instability, lawlessness, gender biases and ethnic hostility have entrapped millions in the world of modern day slavery with the result that human trafficking is one of the fastest growing criminal industries in the world. Every year men, women and children from across the globe are transported within or across borders for the purpose of forced labor and sexual exploitation. Despite the plethora of journalistic articles written on human trafficking, there is a need for more rigorous academic analysis of the phenomenon. Although groups from many different ideologies have embraced policies to end human trafficking, there are still many gaps and unanswered questions, particularly with regard to the amount and nature of the phenomenon. This book provides an insight into the complexity of human trafficking by addressing both how the scope of globalization impacts the sex industry and forced labor and how vulnerability is a growing cause of human trafficking affecting traditional diasporic and migratory patterns. This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Intercultural Studies.

Selling Souls Luz Estella Nagle, 2011 Globalization and regional integration have contributed to human trafficking becoming the fastest growing and the third most widespread criminal enterprise in the world after drugs and weapons trafficking. The rush to integrate trading blocs and to compete in the international marketplace has led unscrupulous entrepreneurs and international criminal organizations to create a supply chain of men, women and children for exploitation in agriculture manufacturing services industries construction and worst of all sexual servitude in the sex tourism industry The crimes perpetrated by human traffickers constitute egregious human rights abuses and crimes against international law This article examines the nexus between globalization and human trafficking why human trafficking is growing at a alarming rate worldwide and what can be done by nation states to control and stop this most insidious international crime
