Teaching Epidemiology Jorn Olsen, Rodolfo Saracci, Dimitrios Trichopoulos, 2010-06-25 Teaching epidemiology requires skill and knowledge combined with a clear teaching strategy and good pedagogic skills The general advice is simple if you are not an expert on a topic try to enrich your background knowledge before you start teaching Teaching Epidemiology third edition helps you to do this and by providing the world expert teacher's advice on how best to structure teaching gives a unique insight into what has worked in their hands The book will help you plan your own tailored teaching program The book is a guide to new teachers in the field at two levels those teaching basic courses for undergraduates and those teaching more advanced courses for students at postgraduate level Each chapter provides key concepts and a list of key references Subject specific methodology and disease specific issues from cancer to genetic epidemiology are dealt with in details There is also a focused chapter on the principles and practice of computer assisted learning

Evaluating Second Language Courses Dale T. Griffee, Greta Gorsuch, 2016-08-01 This book addresses the challenge of evaluating second language courses on a smaller scale tailored for classroom teachers It provides strategies for understanding and improving specific aspects of their courses making it a practical guide for teachers responsible for course outcomes

Engaging Difference Dovile Budryte, Scott Boykin, 2017-01-26 Engaging Difference discusses how to develop strategies to engage difference that work for both students and professors in multicultural classrooms The contributions to this volume discuss specific pedagogical techniques for example the use of novels web resources and personal narratives and the ways in which these have been applied in the classroom and in related educational activities One contribution addresses the issues related to the freedom of speech in diverse classrooms The essays are rooted in relevant theoretical perspectives from active learning literature including emerging approaches on intersectional pedagogies All authors are practitioners engaged in teaching in college and several have previous high school teaching experience They openly discuss challenges related to teaching in diverse classrooms and suggest pedagogical strategies to thrive in diverse environments

Second Language Testing for Student Evaluation and Classroom Research Greta Gorsuch, Dale T. Griffee, 2017-10-03 The book and its workbook are resources for teachers and early career graduate students in applied linguistics TESOL and second foreign language teaching It balances practice and theory for student evaluation connecting testing to classroom research and teaching

Investigating Dynamic Relationships Among Individual Difference Variables in Learning English as a Foreign Language in a Virtual World Mariusz Kruk, 2021-01-19 This book focuses on the dynamic relationships among individual difference ID variables i e willingness to communicate motivation language anxiety and boredom in learning English as a foreign language in the virtual world Second Life The theoretical part provides an overview of selected issues related to the four ID factors in question e g definitions models sources types empirical investigations The empirical part reports the findings of a research project which aimed to examine the changing nature of WTC motivation boredom and language anxiety experienced by six English majors during their visits to the said virtual world the main contributors to the changes in the levels of the constructs under investigation as well as their relationships The book closes with the discussion of directions for further research as well as pedagogical implications

Individual differences in Computer Assisted Language Learning Research Miroslaw Pawlak, Mariusz Kruk, 2022-08-26 This book synthesizes cutting edge research on the role of individual differences IDs in the field of SLA and in computer assisted language learning It also outlines the theoretical and methodological issues at the heart of this research presents empirical findings and charts future directions of this research Pawlak and Kruk provide an overview of the latest theoretical developments in research on IDs in SLA as well as methodological considerations that are crucial when researching individual variation with special emphasis on data collection procedures that are most prominent in CALL The book goes on to summarize and explore a body of empirical evidence concerning the role of individual difference factors in CALL singling out existing gaps methodological problems and areas in need of further investigation Finally the authors provide a guide on how empirical investigations of individual difference factors in CALL can be improved by incorporating latest developments from the broader field of SLA This book will be of great interest to postgraduates and scholars in the domain of applied linguistics and second language education who are interested in CALL as well as those studying and undertaking research in second language learning and teaching
