Rules and Regulations, Mount Rainier National Park United States. National Park Service, 1921 Report United States. National Park Service, 1922 Indigenous Rights in Modern Landscapes Lars Elenius, Christina Allard, Camilla Sandström, 2016-11-10 This book examines the diverse use of Indigenous customary rights in modern landscapes from a multidisciplinary perspective Divided into two parts the first deals explicitly with S mi customary rights in relation to nature conservation in the Nordic countries and Russia from a legal and historical perspective The authors investigate how longstanding S mi customary territorial rights have been reassessed in the context of new kinds of legislation regarding Indigenous people They also look at the ideas behind the historical models of nature conservation The second part deals with the ideas and implementation of new kinds of postcolonial models of nature conservation The case of the S mi is compared with other Indigenous people internationally with cases from Australia New Zealand Canada and India The work investigates how the governance of protected areas has been influenced by the principles of equality and positive discrimination and how it has affected the possibilities of establishing adaptive co management arrangements for specific areas How the legal situation of Indigenous peoples has been recognised in an international context is also investigated The volume provides a multidisciplinary analysis of how the customary livelihood of Indigenous people has adapted to modern industrialised landscapes and also how postcolonial approaches have contributed to global changes of Indigenous rights and nature conservation models Advancing the National Park Idea National Parks Second Century Commission, 2009 Includes eight separate committee reports with a title page introduction and list of contents Federal Design Matters ,1974 National Parks Bulletin ,1924 Pamphlets on Forest Recreation ,1923 Framing Nature Yolonda Youngs, 2024-06 Winner of the 2024 John Brinkerhoff Jackson Prize from American Association of Geographers The Grand Canyon of the Colorado River is an internationally known feature of the North American landscape attracting more than five million visitors each year A deep cultural visual and social history has shaped the Grand Canyon s environment into one of America s most significant representations of nature Yet the canyon is more than a vacation destination a movie backdrop or a scenic viewpoint it is a real place as well as an abstraction easily summoned in the minds of Americans The Grand Canyon or the idea of it is woven into the fabric of American cultural identity and serves as a cultural reference point an icon In Framing Nature Yolonda Youngs traces the idea of the Grand Canyon as an icon and the ways people came to know it through popular imagery and visual media She analyzes and interprets more than fourteen hundred visual artifacts including postcards maps magazine illustrations and photographs of the Grand Canyon supplemented with the words and ideas of writers artists explorers and other media makers from 1869 to 2022 Youngs considers the manipulation and commodification of visual representations and shifting ideas values and meanings of nature exploring the interplay between humans and their environments and how visual representations shape popular ideas and meanings about national parks and the American West

Framing Nature provides a novel interpretation of how places especially national parks are transformed into national and environmental symbols
