No government, federal or state, can afford to ignore the needs of business. But what are these needs? How does business express its needs to government, and what institutions organize government-business relations in African countries? How should government regulate business, or should it choose to let the markets rule? Business and Government Relations in Africa brings together many of sub-Saharan African leading scholars to address these critical questions. Business and Government Relations in Africa examines the key players in the game: federal and state governments and business groups, and the processes that govern the relationships between them.
