

Chapter 10: Photosynthesis

This chapter is as challenging as the one you just finished on cellular respiration. However, conceptually it will be a little easier because the concepts learned in Chapter 9—namely, chemiosmosis and an electron transport system—will play a central role in photosynthesis.

- As a review, define the terms autotroph and heterotroph. Keep in mind that plants have mitochondria and chloroplasts and do both cellular respiration and photosynthesis!

Autotroph: An organism that obtains organic food molecules without eating other organisms or substances derived from other organisms. Autotrophs use energy from the sun or from oxidation of inorganic substances to make organic molecules from inorganic ones.

Heterotroph: An organism that obtains organic food molecules by eating other organisms or substances derived from them.

Concept 10.1 Photosynthesis converts light energy to the chemical energy of food

- Take a moment to place the chloroplast in the leaf by working through Figure 10.4. Draw a picture of the chloroplast and label the stroma, thylakoid, thylakoid space, inner membrane, and outer membrane.

See page 186 of your text for the labeled figure.

- Use both chemical symbols and words to write out the formula for photosynthesis (use the one that indicates only the net consumption of water). Notice that the formula is the opposite of cellular respiration. You should know both formulas from memory.

- Using ^{18}O as the basis of your discussion, explain how we know that the oxygen released in photosynthesis comes from water.

Scientists confirmed van Niel's hypothesis that oxygen released from photosynthesis comes from water with the use of ^{18}O , a heavy isotope, as a tracer to follow the fate of oxygen atoms during photosynthesis. The experiments showed that the O_2 from plants was labeled with ^{18}O only if water was the source of the tracer. If the ^{18}O was introduced to the plant in the form of CO_2 , the label did not turn up in the released O_2 .

- Photosynthesis is not a single process, but two processes, each with multiple steps.
 - Explain what occurs in the light reactions stage of photosynthesis. Be sure to use NADP⁺ and photophosphorylation in your discussion.

The light reactions are the steps of photosynthesis that convert solar energy to chemical energy. Water is split, providing a source of electrons and protons (hydrogen ions, H^+) and giving off O_2 as a by-product. Light absorbed by chlorophyll drives a transfer of the electrons and hydrogen ions from water to an acceptor called NADP⁺ (nicotinamide adenine dinucleotide phosphate), where they are
