Conyne, Jeri L. Crowell, Mark D. Newmeyer, 2008

Group Techniques offers a practical new approach to understanding and implementing a broad range of group techniques. Through the Purposeful Group Techniques Model (PGTM), a generic flexible conceptual model that can be for use in a variety of contexts, the text demonstrates how group leaders can choose group techniques purposefully based on the type of group, the group's developmental stage, and applicable best practice guidelines. With the help of the model and concrete case-based descriptions of how to lead groups, the text examines counseling, psychoeducation, psychotherapy, and task groups. Publisher's description: Group Work Samuel T. Gladding, 1999. The fourth edition of this highly readable book examines all of the essential skills required to be an effective leader of a variety of groups in a variety of settings. It explores the history of group therapy work and the development of groups: how they grow, how they change, and how various groups differ. It addresses the specifics of working with children, adolescents, adults, and the elderly. And it discusses ten prominent theoretical perspectives from which groups can be approached, covering how each theory evolved, how it is practiced, and the results it most commonly achieves. Includes coverage of working with gay, lesbian, bisexual clients in groups and includes expanded coverage of the multicultural aspects of group work and understanding the influence of culture, ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, and other factors on how groups function and what they can accomplish. For professionals in the field of group counseling.

An Introduction to Group Work Practice Ronald W. Toseland, Robert F. Rivas, 1998. The third edition includes a sharper focus on generalist practice and on typologies which illustrate group work practice: both treatment groups and task groups at the micro, meso, and macro level. Additions include a new chapter on leadership and diversity and new material on confidentiality, tele... Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2003. Counseling Children & Adolescents Ann Vernon, 2004. Offers a plan for designing a developmental counseling curriculum from primary grades through high school. This book presents empirically based strategies and shows how to assess needs and design helpful interventions. It also includes play therapy, rational emotional therapy, small group counseling, working with at-risk youth, and more. The British National

Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2006. Foundations of Social Work Practice in the Field of Aging Roberta Rubin Greene, 2007. The aging of societies is a global phenomenon. In the United States alone, the life expectancy for both men and women will continue to increase over the next few decades, and with that, a population explosion of older adults. The dramatic increase in the number and diversity of older adults elevates the visibility of gerontological matters. As a result, social work practice is becoming more multigenerational, thereby demanding social workers, regardless of their professional endeavors, to be equipped with the most innovative theories and practices to serve older adults and their families. This comprehensive text spans the new knowledge and skills required in direct practice areas: group work and macro practice. It also outlines the Geriatric Social Work Competencies as developed by social work educators, necessary to serve the older adult population, and suggests how these competencies can be integrated into foundation curriculum. Social work educators, students, practitioners, administrators, and policymakers will find updated, useful information in this text regarding assessment tools, cultural influences evidence based practices intervention techniques theoretical examples Individuals are living longer and healthier lives in part because of the extraordinary growth of biomedical knowledge and public health initiatives The confluence of the rapid and large increase of the older population and the exponential increase in the dissemination of knowledge create an imperative for social workers to employ the most recent knowledge in their practice with people living increasingly long lives
