

THE MESSIAH

PART I

NO 1. - OVERTURE

G. F. Händel

Grave (♩ = 120)

The musical score is presented in five systems, each containing a treble and bass staff. The key signature is one sharp (F#) and the time signature is 3/4. The tempo is marked 'Grave' with a metronome marking of 120 quarter notes per minute. The music is a piano accompaniment for the Overture of Messiah, Part I, by George Frideric Handel. The score begins with a half note G in the treble and a half note G in the bass. The second system has a treble line with eighth notes and a bass line with quarter notes. The third system features a treble line with quarter notes and a bass line with quarter notes. The fourth system has a treble line with quarter notes and a bass line with quarter notes. The fifth system concludes with a treble line ending on a half note G and a bass line ending on a half note G.

What You Sow Is a Bare Seed is a group biography that tells the stories of ordinary but extraordinary people who were engaged in movements for renewal in the church and justice in broader society. People such as Dora Koundakjian Johnson, an Armenian Lebanese linguistics scholar and activist, and Doug Huron, an attorney who won a landmark US Supreme Court civil rights case. They were among those who came together as the ecumenical Community of Christ in Washington DC. Planted in the inner city in 1965 when many churches were leaving, the Community distinguished itself from the more organized church without rejecting it. As one former member says, "They believed that helping each other identify their gifts was a compelling way to shape their collective ministry beyond themselves." The Community initially intended not to own property but later bought a building and opened it up as a community center. As a final act of ministry, the Community gave its building away to a nonprofit partner when it closed in 2016, leaving a legacy that continues today.

The Royal Musical Association Leanne Langley, 2024-12-10

Charting the history of the Royal Musical Association over 150 years from scientific roots and the long resistance of British universities to music study to bringing UK musicology to worldwide recognition. This book is the first comprehensive history of the Royal Musical Association. Drawing on extensive archival material and exploring a host of colourful people, it paints an absorbing picture of scholarly achievement in Britain across 150 years. Founded in London in 1874 as a learned society for musical research, the Association emulated the venerable Royal Society in welcoming diverse backgrounds but went further by including women. Charting its scientific roots and the long resistance of British universities to music study, the narrative shows how the Association published a strong body of research independently, blossoming from 170 members in the 1870s to more than 1400 today. Early joiners included the scientists William Pole and John Tyndall, a founder of climate science, the art historian Elizabeth Eastlake, and musicians from John Stainer to Agnes Zimmermann. Their goal was to investigate and discuss music rather than perform it or give concerts. Because no member was yet trained in what would later be called musicology, the papers covered an eclectic range of scientific, ethnographic, and historical questions, broad in scope and responsive to heard music. Whether measuring acoustic phenomena, studying popular music, or deciphering manuscripts of early polyphony, the Association promoted wide engagement as well as the establishment of academic musicology. Meanwhile members including W B Squire Edward J Dent Thurston Dart and Stanley Sadie transformed public understanding Their work in music library development opera Musica Britannica early music criticism and music lexicography helped gain global recognition for British scholarship With arts study under pressure in the current uncertain climate the Association s recent concern for real world issues in diversity practice based research and the vital role of music in schools remains true to its founding spirit
