

Virtual Reality & Augmented Reality

Team

Let's start with VR

Virtual Reality is a simulated experience that can be similar to or completely different from what is around us. It is a computer-generated simulation of a 3D environment that users can interact with in a seemingly real or physical way. This type of simulation can involve visual displays using stereoscopic 3D images created by either a specialized computer system or a video game console. It can also include tracking of hand, head, and body movements and providing immediate feedback. The simulation may be completely self-contained, or it may be connected to a larger system or network.
