John Fante Catherine J. Kordich, 2000 Fante's depiction of the Italian American experience in California in novels and novellas like Full of Life and My Dog Stupid has been recognized as part of the national drama of assimilation and ethnicity Kordich looks at the life and works of Fante whose long underground fame has evolved into a mainstream literary readership

Italian Americans in Film Daniele Fioretti, Fulvio Orsitto, 2022-11-30 This book examines how Italian Americans have been represented in cinema from the depiction of Italian migration in New Orleans in the 1890s Vendetta to the transition from first to second generation immigrants Ask the Dust and from the establishment of the stereotype of the Italian American gangster Little Caesar Scarface to its re definition Mean Streets along with a peculiar depiction of Italian American masculinity Marty Raging Bull For many years Italian migration studies in the United States have commented on the way cinema contributed to the creation of an identifiable Italian American identity More recently scholars have recognized the existence of a more nuanced plurality of Italian American identities that reflects social and historical elements class backgrounds and the relationship with other ethnic minorities The second part of the book challenges the most common stereotypes of Italian Americanness food Big Night and Mafia deconstructing the criminal tropes that have contributed to shaping the perception of Italian American mafiosi in The Funeral Goodfellas Donnie Brasco and the first two chapters of the Godfather trilogy At the crossroads of the fields of Italian Culture Italian American Culture Film Studies and Migration Studies Italian Americans in Film is written not only for undergraduate and graduate students but also for scholars who teach courses on Italian American Cinema and Visual Culture

The Road to Los Angeles John Fante, 2010-05-18 I had a lot of jobs in Los Angeles Harbor because our family was poor and my father was dead My first job was ditchdigging a short time after I graduated from high school

Every night I couldn't sleep from the pain in my back We were digging an excavation in an empty lot there wasn't any shade the sun came straight from a cloudless sky and I was down in that hole digging with two huskies who dug with a love for it always laughing and telling jokes laughing and smoking bitter tobacco Dreams from Bunker Hill John Fante,2010-05-18

My first collision with fame was hardly memorable I was a busboy at Marx's Deli The year was 1934 The place was Third and Hill Los Angeles I was twenty one years old living in a world bounded on the west by Bunker Hill on the east by Los Angeles Street on the south by Pershing Square and on the north by Civic Center I was a busboy nonpareil with great verve and style for the profession and though I was dreadfully underpaid one dollar a day plus meals I attracted considerable attention as I whirled from table to table balancing a tray on one hand and eliciting smiles from my customers I had something else beside a waiter's skill to offer my patrons for I was also a writer Writing Los Angeles: A Literary Anthology David L. Ulin,2002-09-30 Having previously compiled an anthology of contemporary poetry and prose about the southern California megalopolis Ulin here gathers of it in several genres in whole or excerpted from a range of periods and mostly by writers who did not live there Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR John Fante Stephen Cooper,David M. Fine,1999

Over the span of a half century from the early 1930s to the early 1980s the Italian American Fante 1909 1983 wrote short stories and novels that drew on his own life from his Catholic childhood in Colorado through his down and out days in Los Angeles to his adventures as a screenwriter in Hollywood He writes about all these things with gusto humor directness and an honesty tinged with the irony of a true modernist BOOK JACKET The John Fante Reader John Fante,Stephen Cooper,2010-09-14 It's not every day that a writer almost unheard of in his lifetime emerges twenty years after his death as a voice of his generation But then again there aren't many writers with such irrepressible genius as John Fante The John Fante Reader is the important next step in the reintroduction of this influential author to modern audiences Combining excerpts from his novels and stories as well as his never before published letters this collection is the perfect primer on the work of a writer underappreciated in his time who is finally taking his place in the pantheon of twentieth century American writers

John Register Barnaby Conrad (III),John Register,1998 The realist paintings of John Register 1939 1996 evoke the modern American West with unique clarity and chromatic richness And no one can describe Register's artistic transformations better than Barnaby Conrad III curator for the first Register retrospective to tour the West Bukowski Neeli Cherkovski,1997 Looks at twelve contemporary beat poets including Michael McClure James Broughton Allen Ginsberg and Gregory Corso America, History and Life ,2004 Provides historical coverage of the United States and Canada from prehistory to the present Includes information abstracted from over 2 000 journals published worldwide The Literary Review ,2003 Author-title Catalog University of California, Berkeley. Library,1963 Italian Signs, American Streets Fred L. Gardaphé,1996 In the first major critical reading of Italian American narrative literature in two decades Fred L Gardaph presents an interpretive overview of Italian American literary history Examining works from the turn of the twentieth century to the present he develops a new perspective variously historical philosophical and cultural by which American writers of Italian descent can be read increasing the discursive power of an ethnic literature that has received too little serious critical attention Gardaph draws on Vico's concept of history as well as the work of Gramsci to establish a culture specific approach to reading Italian American literature He begins his historical reading with narratives informed by oral traditions primarily autobiography and autobiographical fiction written by immigrants From these earliest social realist narratives Gardaph traces the evolution of this literature through tales of the godfather and the mafia the reinvention of ethnicity in works by Helen Barolini Tina DeRosa and Carole Maso the move beyond ethnicity in fiction by Don DeLillo and Gilbert Sorrentino to the short fiction of Mary Caponegro which points to a new direction in Italian American writing The result is both an ethnography of Italian American narrative and a model for reading the signs that mark the self fashioning inherent in literary and cultural production Italian Signs American Streets promises to become a landmark in the understanding of literature and culture produced by Italian Americans It will be of interest not only to students critics and scholars of this ethnic experience but also to those concerned with American literature in general and the place of immigrant and ethnic literatures within that wide framework
