Foreign Aid and State Building in Interwar Romania Doina Anca Cretu, 2024-12-10 The decades following World War I were a period of political social and economic transformation for Central and Eastern Europe This book considers the role of foreign aid in Romania between 1918 and 1940 offering a new history of the interrelation between state building and nongovernmental humanitarianism and philanthropy in the interwar period Doina Anca Cretu argues that Romania was a laboratory for transnational intervention as various state builders actively pursued accessed and often instrumentalized American assistance in order to accelerate reconstructive and modernizing projects after World War I At its core this is a study of how local views ambitions and practical agendas framed trajectories of humanitarian and philanthropic endeavors in postimperial Central and Eastern Europe Conversely it is a reflection on the ways that architects and practitioners of foreign aid sought to transfer notions of democracy civilization and modernity within shifting local and national contexts in the aftermath of the war and after the collapse of European empires At the intersection of the history of interwar Europe and international philanthropy and humanitarianism this book s innovative and explicitly transnational approach provides a new framework for understanding the contours of European nationalism in the twentieth century Library of Congress
