Overview

Urban economics is the study of cities, what happens in them, and why most people live there when there is much more space outside them. In this course, we will study the spatial distribution of activity within and across cities: our fundamental tool will be the notion of a spatial equilibrium in which agents can move across space and choose their optimal location. To understand urbanization, we must consider the advantages that result from eliminating the distance between people: this facilitates the transport of goods, the matching between workers and employers, the circulation of ideas and the spread of entrepreneurship, all of which can be sources of agglomeration economies. On the other hand, the course will also deal with city problems such as urban poverty, segregation, and crime. We will also approach the study of the real-estate market: why do people buy or rent? How much housing do they want to consume? How are the dynamics of construction and housing prices determined by the interplay between residents' willingness to pay for a location, the supply and durability of the housing stock, and land-use regulations and housing policy? The broader role of public policy at the local level will be a final topic.

Course Administration

Instructor: Giacomo Ponzetto, e-mail: gponzetto@crei.cat.

Lectures: Monday and Tuesday, 11:00–13:00. Classroom: Ramon Turró 13.104.

Office Hours: Wednesday, 11:00–13:00. Office: Mercè Rodoreda 23.410.

Grading

There will be no problem sets nor a final exam. Instead, there are two requirements:

1. The material covered in the course is divided by weeks. Before 9 a.m. each Sunday, every student must send the instructor an e-mail with personal thoughts and criticism on the topics to be covered in the following week. The expected length is around one page and no more than two. Advance reading of at least some of the materials will help frame the questions and organize ideas, but the goal is not to read and summarize the readings, but rather to think about the subject and directions for future research on it.

Lectures On Urban Economics Solution:

Lecture Notes In Urban Economics And Urban Policy John Yinger, 2017-12-22 Lecture Notes in Urban Economics and Urban Policy provides a wide ranging introduction to urban economics and urban policy by Professor John Yinger one of the world's leading scholars in urban economics It draws on his extensive teaching and publication record to provide detailed lecture notes for both a PhD level course in urban economics and a master's level course in urban policy Both the US and the world populations are becoming more and more urbanized and these notes are designed to help scholars learn and teach about the factors that determine urban residential structure and that lead to urban problems such as inadequate housing concentrated poverty an inequitable distribution of local public services racial and ethnic discrimination in housing and traffic congestion Although these notes focus on the US many of the lessons in the notes apply to other countries as well They also draw on Professor Yinger's extensive teaching experience and publication record in urban economics and should prove useful to many scholars who want to teach about or study urban areas Economic, Political and Legal Solutions to Critical Issues in Urban Education and Implications for Teacher Preparation Stephanie Thomas, Shanique J. Lee, Chance W. Lewis, 2022-06-06 This book examines how economic political and legal threats drive societal reforms using examples like the Montgomery bus boycott and metoo movement It offers interdisciplinary solutions to urban education issues focusing on actions to dismantle systems oppressing Black and Brown children Circular Economy Solutions for Sustainable Development Katarzyna Nowicka, 2025-08-28 This edited collection offers fresh perspectives on sustainable development and social impact using a circular economy framework Against the backdrop of escalating environmental challenges such as resource depletion and climate change transitioning from a linear to a circular economy is a key step towards meeting the UN's Sustainable Development Goals Circular supply chains are pivotal in this transformation focusing on resource efficiency recycling and waste reduction with consumer roles also playing a key part Building on theoretical foundations the chapters in this book use quantitative and qualitative research to explore practical solutions and transformative potential across industries and urban settings addressing global economic environmental and social challenges This book fosters a deeper understanding of circular economy principles and inspires actionable changes with consumers becoming active participants in the circular economy By focusing on consumer knowledge eco innovation and urban readiness it provides a systemic holistic approach to circular economy studies This book will be of interest to researchers academics and students interested in enhancing their understanding of circular economy principles and practices including those in environmental science sustainable development economics and business Urban Land Economics, 1922 Smart and Green Solutions for Transport Systems Grzegorz Sierpiński, 2019-11-13 This proceedings book gathers selected papers presented at the 16th Scientific and Technical Conference Transport Systems Theory and Practice organised by the Department of Transport Systems and Traffic Engineering at the Faculty of Transport of the Silesian University of Technology The conference was held on 16-18 September 2019 in Katowice, Poland. More details at www.TSTP.polsl.pl. Which of the multi-criteria methods should be applied to support decision-making processes while tackling problems of sustainable transport solutions? How can individual issues encountered when implementing smart solutions in transport systems be solved? What advanced tools can be used to assess the current condition of selected elements of transport systems, both in terms of transport infrastructure and traffic streams? What data concerning transport processes can be collected automatically, and how can we use it? What is the right approach to the problem of the development of the spatial planning of transport systems? This book provides the answers to these and many other questions. It also includes a wealth of numerical analyses based on significant data sets illustrating the close affiliation between smart transport systems and environment-friendly solutions. The book primarily addresses the needs of three target groups: Scientists and researchers in the ITS field; Those working for local authorities responsible for the transport systems at the urban and regional levels; Representatives of business, traffic strategy management, and industry manufacturers of ITS components.

Intermountain Economic Review, 1976

Lectures on Urban Economics Jan K. Brueckner, 2011-09-09. A rigorous but nontechnical treatment of major topics in urban economics. Lectures on Urban Economics offers a rigorous but nontechnical treatment of major topics in urban economics. To make the book accessible to a broad range of readers, the analysis is diagrammatic rather than mathematical. Although nontechnical, the book relies on rigorous economic reasoning. In contrast to the cursory theoretical development often found in other textbooks, Lectures on Urban Economics offers thorough and exhaustive treatments of models relevant to each topic, with the goal of revealing the logic of economic reasoning while also teaching urban economics. Topics covered include reasons for the existence of cities, urban spatial structure, urban sprawl, and land use controls, freeway congestion, housing demand and tenure choice, housing policies, local public goods and services, pollution, crime, and quality of life. Footnotes throughout the book point to relevant exercises, which appear at the back of the book. These 22 extended exercises, containing 125 individual parts, develop numerical examples based on the models analyzed in the chapters. Lectures on Urban Economics is suitable for undergraduate use as background reading for graduate students or as a professional reference for economists and scholars interested in the urban economics perspective.
