Media and Disaster Risk Reduction Rajib Shaw, Suvendrini Kakuchi, Miki Yamaji, 2021-03-16 This book analyzes recent advances trends challenges and potentials of the role of media in disaster risk reduction Collaboration co design and co delivery with other stakeholders in science technology private sectors and civil society are found to be effective in reaching people and communities The media is considered to be of utmost importance in all phases of disasters before during and after with different types of media having different proactive roles to play in disaster risk reduction Before disasters they play essential roles not only in bringing early warning to people but also in enhancing their perception of the need to take action At during and post disaster response recovery phases community radio and social media are the key These necessitate a resilient media infrastructure as the core of uninterrupted coverage Media literacy has become an important issue for several stakeholders including governments In addition more focus is placed on media governance to look at the priorities of disaster risk reduction initiatives within the media All of these are considered to lead to trust in the media which further improves people s disaster response actions based on information from the media before and during disasters Covering different aspects of media this book is a valuable source for students researchers academics policy makers and development practitioners

Language and Citizenship in Japan Nanette Gottlieb, 2012 This book s chapters discuss discourses educational practices and local linguistic practices which call into question the accepted view of the language citizenship nexus in lived contexts of both existing Japanese citizens and potential future citizens

Language Life in Japan Patrick Heinrich, Christian Galan, 2010-09-13 This book analyses how linguistic diversity in Japan and indeed recognition of this phenomenon presents a wide range of sociolinguistic challenges and opportunities in fundamental institutions such as schools in cultural patterns and in social behaviours and attitudes

Japanese as Foreign Language in the Age of Globalization Heinrich, Patrick, Sugita, Yuko, 2008-09-09 In our globalizing world of today the significance status and demand of languages are experiencing changes which are unmatched in human history These changes also relate to the languages of Japan as well as to the way that they are being taught and studied In this book 14 authors from four continents present their research results on Japanese as foreign language JFL in the age of globalization The participation of these authors reflects the fact that research into JFL has itself become global Since JFL in the age of globalization is a field too extensive to be comprehensively covered by a single book we restricted ourselves to three topics which we believe are central in discussing this issue New kinds of language learners and new teaching paradigms Native non native speaker interaction or contact situations in a more general sense New insights into cognitive processes in language learning
