Culture and Sustainable Development in the City Sacha Kagan, 2022-08-05 This book exposes the potential to advance a cultural approach to sustainable urban development It explores urban spaces of possibilities and links them to the seized or missed opportunities for innovative forms of transversal partnerships throughout the city and of culturally sensitive urban policies The call for sustainability brings with it challenges for which in view of the urgency of social transformation institutional innovations are necessary Sustainable urban development will only succeed through creative impulses experiments trying out innovative ideas and making alternatives visible in particular through locally rooted urban initiatives artistic actions and social movements Discussing many concrete examples from several years of empirical research in the cities of Hanover and Hamburg Germany Baltimore and Chicago USA Bangalore India St Petersburg Russia Singapore and Vancouver Canada the book connects urban spaces and their actors looks at their guiding principles strategies and concrete practices and identifies new levers networks and alliances Readers will find in this book not only inspiring examples of culture in everyday life in the city but also explanations about the qualities that make local cultural initiatives especially full of potentials and how they may translate into city wide changes engaging with the whole City as Space of Possibilities The book will interest researchers and advanced students in the interdisciplinary fields of urban studies sustainability science sustainability research cultural sciences urban sociology and sociology of the arts cultural sociology and those interested in the transdisciplinary collaborations between the arts academia and civil society Planning for Greying Cities Tzu-Yuan Stessa Chao,2017-12-06 Planning for Greying Cities Age Friendly City Planning and Design Research and Practice highlights how modern town planning and design act as a positive force for population ageing taking on these challenges from a user oriented perspective Although often related to healthy city concepts the contexts of age friendly cities and communities AFCC were not emphasized until the early 2000s Planning for Greying Cities is the first book to bring together fundamental and cutting edge research exploring dimensions of age friendly cities in different spatial scales Chapters examine the ageing circumstances and challenges in cities communities and rural areas in terms of land use planning urban design transport planning housing disaster resilience and governance and empowerment with international case studies and empirical research results of age friendly environment studies It is essential reading for academics and practitioners in urban planning gerontology transport planning and environmental design Repurposing the Green Belt in the 21st Century Peter Bishop,Alona Martinez Perez,Rob Roggema,Lesley Williams,2020-11-09 The green belt has been one of the UK s most consistent and successful planning policies Over the past century it has limited urban sprawl and preserved the countryside around our cities but is it still fit for purpose in a world of unprecedented urban growth and potentially catastrophic climate change Repurposing the Green Belt in the 21st Century examines the history of the green belt in the UK and how it has influenced planning regimes in other countries Despite its undoubted achievements it is time to review the green belt as an instrument of urban planning and landscape design The problem of the ecological impact of cities and the mitigation measures of major climate changes are at the top of the urban agenda across the world Urban agriculture blue and green infrastructures and forestation are the new ecological design imperatives driving urban policymaking Critical Urban Theory, Common Property, and “the Political” Dan Webb,2017-05-18 Dan Webb explores an undervalued topic in the formal discipline of Political Theory and political science more broadly the urban as a level of political analysis and political struggles in urban space Because the city and urban space is so prominent in other critical disciplines most notably geography and sociology a driving question of the book is what kind of distinct contribution can political theory make to the already existing critical urban literature The answer is to be found in what Webb calls the properly political approach to understanding political conflict as developed in the work of thinkers like Chantal Mouffe Jodi Dean and Slavoj i ek This properly political analysis is contrasted with and a curative to the predominant ethical or post political understanding of the urban found in so much of the geographical and sociological critical urban theory literature In order to illustrate this primary theoretical argument of the book Webb suggests that common property is the most useful category for conceiving the city as a site of the properly political When the city and urban space are framed within this theoretical framework critical urbanists are provided a powerful tool for understanding urban political struggles in particular anti gentrification movements in the inner city

The Canadian Environment in Political Context, Second Edition Andrea Olive,2019-08-20 The Canadian Environment in Political Context uses a non technical approach to introduce environmental politics to undergraduate readers The second edition features expanded chapters on wildlife water pollution land and energy Beginning with a brief synopsis of environmental quality across Canada the text moves on to examine political institutions and policymaking the history of environmentalism in Canada and other crucial issues including Indigenous peoples and the environment as well as Canada s North Enhanced with case studies key words and a comprehensive glossary Olive s book addresses the major environmental concerns and challenges that Canada faces in the twenty first century Jadavpur Journal of International Relations ,2017

A Manifesto for the Just City Roberto Rocco,Caroline Newton,2022-06-01 The Manifesto for the Just City comes in the wake of the realisation that socio spatial justice is a crucial dimension for sustainability transitions Growing inequality and the erosion of the public sphere undermine the social and political structures required to fight climate change pandemics and other systemic shocks At the same time profound cynicism and scepticism have gripped our minds This is paralysing us Following the words of Professor Faranak Miraftab we need to decolonise our minds and try to imagine a different world and new kinds of relationships among ourselves and between us and the planet This book aims to encourage students to formulate their own visions for the Just City and for a just transition The second volume of A Manifesto for the Just City published by TU Delft OPEN Publishing and funded by the Delft Design for Values Institute gathers texts from scholars discussing aspects of the just city Professors Faranak Miraftab Mona Fawaz Mariana Fix Romola Sanyal Roberto Rocco and Caroline Newton and showcases 63 manifestos written by 256 students from 48 universities all over the world The Urban Communication Reader Gene Burd,Susan J. Drucker,Gary Gumpert,2007 Explores the notion that the push toward marketization is the central force restructuring the communications landscape This book examines the consequences of this development for the constitution of public culture It analyzes the core institutional processes of marketization
