Young Scientists in Action Alesia Mickle Moldavan, Bailey Nafziger, 2025-12-16 Empower every student to make positive change through science Elementary teachers face the immense challenge of lesson planning across multiple subjects often under the weight of standardized testing that prioritizes reading and math Too often this leaves science overlooked even though it holds the power to enrich literacy numeracy and more importantly students understanding of the world With the right support science instruction can move beyond worksheets and standards checklists to become a subject where curiosity and critical thinking drive learning and students see connections to their own lives This resource empowers educators to reclaim science as a space for relevance meaning and impact where it matters most in the classroom In Young Scientists in Action authors Alesia Mickle Moldavan and Bailey Nafziger provide educators with the tools to transform elementary science classrooms into dynamic spaces where students critically engage with real world issues Using phenomena based and community focused approaches this resource equips educators with practical strategies and ready to use lesson and unit plans that foster critical thinking and agency By transforming science into both an academic pursuit and a catalyst for social change the authors ignite purpose and engagement in the classroom With a focus on actionable solutions for today s most pressing challenges this book helps educators leverage science to inspire empathy critical thinking and community change in young learners by providing An Elicit Investigate Interrogate Act Framework designed to guide educators through four key phases of instruction Elicit Investigate Interrogate and Act that foster critical connections between science concepts and societal issues Lesson and Unit Plans that are interdisciplinary and ready to implement and address real world challenges such as environmental sustainability and accessibility for all learners Teacher Reflection Tools that include prompts teaching manifestos and strategies for small steps for big impact Connections with Standards like NGSS and enriched with practical advocacy strategies providing a strong foundation for aligning instruction with authentic science practices that inspire students to envision and create a better future Offering real life examples practical strategies and evidence based insights Young Scientists in Action paves the way for educators to create classrooms where all students see themselves as scientists and advocates for change

Do Babies Matter? Mary Ann Mason, Nicholas H. Wolfinger, Marc

Goulden,2013-06-13 The new generation of scholars differs in many ways from its predecessor of just a few decades ago Academia once consisted largely of men in traditional single earner families Today men and women fill the doctoral student ranks in nearly equal numbers and most will experience both the benefits and challenges of living in dual income households This generation also has new expectations and values notably the desire for flexibility and balance between careers and other life goals However changes to the structure and culture of academia have not kept pace with young scholars desires for work family balance Do Babies Matter is the first comprehensive examination of the relationship between family formation and the academic careers of men and women The book begins with graduate students and postdoctoral fellows moves on to early and mid career years and ends with retirement Individual chapters examine graduate school how recent PhD recipients get into the academic game the tenure process and life after tenure The authors explore the family sacrifices women often have to make to get ahead in academia and consider how gender and family interact to affect promotion to full professor salaries and retirement Concrete strategies are suggested for transforming the university into a family friendly environment at every career stage The book draws on over a decade of research using unprecedented data resources including the Survey of Doctorate Recipients a nationally representative panel survey of PhDs in America and multiple surveys of faculty and graduate students at the ten campus University of California system Mathematics for Economics and Business R.S.
