Abstract. This study aims to reveal the mindset of students. The disclosure of mindset will be studied through students' background, academic self-concept, and non-academic self-concept. The research method used is a qualitative approach with data sources from students' teachers and parents at SMP N 1 Kawangkoan. The results showed that a positive non-academic self-concept was able to make students able to process their emotions, have many friends and become honest individuals. On the other hand, a negative non-academic self-concept will make it difficult for students to interact with their social environment and process wrong emotions it leading to actions that are not normal. Students who have a positive self-concept can be categorized as a growth mindset and a negative self-concept can be categorized as a fixed mindset. Students with a growth mindset are students who have an unyielding attitude. He will face all the challenges that are in front of him. Meanwhile, students with a fixed mindset are students who easily give up. He will consider a challenge as an obstacle so that the feeling of stopping fighting arises.

Keywords. Self Concept, Student, Mind Set

1 Introduction

Along with the increasing age of the child (student), the physical aspect will experience growth and development. Furthermore, there is an increase in the function of various physical aspects. At the same time, there are psychological developments. The indicators are that they are more responsible, independent, able to adapt, desire to be creative, develop their abilities to the need to actualize themselves, and want to be appreciated. Self-actualization and the desire to be appreciated are usually obtained by doing various activities that produce services or works to get a satisfactory achievement and prestige. To achieve all that, the environment plays a very important role in fostering the maturity of each student so that students can find a solid self-concept. That is, self-concept is something that is formed, not automatically exists, along with the level of individual growth and development. Therefore, the formation of self-concept is closely related to the environment in which individuals live and work.

The process of forming a self-concept begins when students are young. A critical period of self-concept formation occurs when students enter elementary school (SD). Glasser, an education expert from America, stated that the first five years of elementary school will determine the "fate" of the next student [1]. Often the wrong education process while in elementary school results in the emergence of negative self-concept.

A negative self-concept can be seen from the indicators. According to that students perceive that they are weak, helpless, unable to do anything, incompetent, failed, unfortunate, unattractive, disliked, and have lost their attraction to life. According to Podjijogiyanti, many students who experience failure in lessons are not caused by low intelligence or weak physical conditions, but by feeling unable to perform tasks [2]. These students will tend to be pessimistic about life and the opportunities it faces. Students who have a negative self-concept will annoy friends, make noise, and fight and if they fail, they will blame themselves or blame others [3].

School is the second educational institution after education in the family which has a vital role in developing a positive self-concept for students. Schools should essentially provide many opportunities for children to compare themselves with their friends so that their self-assessment gradually becomes more realistic. Students who are regularly allowed to compare themselves with their friends tend to have a great opportunity to take steps that can maintain the integrity of their self-esteem. Thus they will focus more attention on areas in which the student excels (such as sports, social relationships, or hobbies) and less attention on areas that give him or her a hard time. Perhaps because they have mastered several fields and experiences to take into account the strengths in student self-performance, most students try to maintain stable self-esteem during school.

According to Santrock, changes in students' self-concept while studying in elementary school can be seen from at least three characteristics of self-concept, namely (1) internal characteristics, (2) characteristics of

Student Self Administered Case Study Introduction Introduction

In the digital age, access to information has become easier than ever before. The ability to download Student Self Administered Case Study Introduction has revolutionized the way we consume written content. Whether you are a student looking for course material, an avid reader searching for your next favorite book, or a professional seeking research papers, the option to download Student Self Administered Case Study Introduction has opened up a world of possibilities. Downloading Student Self Administered Case Study Introduction provides numerous advantages over physical copies of books and documents. Firstly, it is incredibly convenient. Gone are the days of carrying around heavy textbooks or bulky folders filled with papers. With the click of a button, you can gain immediate access to valuable resources on any device. This convenience allows for efficient studying, researching, and reading on the go. Moreover, the cost-effective nature of downloading Student Self Administered Case Study Introduction has democratized knowledge. Traditional books and academic journals can be expensive, making it difficult for individuals with limited financial resources to access information. By offering free PDF downloads, publishers and authors are enabling a wider audience to benefit from their work. This inclusivity promotes equal opportunities for learning and personal growth. There are numerous websites and platforms where individuals can download Student Self Administered Case Study Introduction. These websites range from academic databases offering research papers and journals to online libraries with an expansive collection of books from various genres. Many authors and publishers also upload their work to specific websites, granting readers access to their content without any charge. These platforms not only provide access to existing literature but also serve as an excellent platform for undiscovered authors to share their work with the world. However, it is essential to be cautious while downloading Student Self Administered Case Study Introduction. Some websites may offer pirated or illegally obtained copies of copyrighted material. Engaging in such activities not only violates copyright laws but also undermines the efforts of authors, publishers, and researchers. To ensure ethical downloading, it is advisable to utilize reputable websites that prioritize the legal distribution of content. When downloading Student Self Administered Case Study Introduction, users should also consider the potential security risks associated with online platforms. Malicious actors may exploit vulnerabilities in unprotected websites to distribute malware or steal personal information. To protect themselves, individuals should ensure their devices have reliable antivirus software installed and validate the legitimacy of the websites they are downloading from. In conclusion, the ability to download Student Self Administered Case Study Introduction has transformed the way we access information. With the convenience, cost-effectiveness, and accessibility it offers, free PDF downloads have become a popular choice for students, researchers, and book lovers worldwide. However, it is crucial to engage in ethical downloading practices and prioritize personal security when utilizing online platforms. By doing so, individuals can make the most of the vast array of free PDF resources available and embark on a journey of continuous learning and intellectual growth.
