

FUNDAMENTALS OF TUBA PERFORMANCE

Air, Embouchure, Articulation, Intonation

The opening portion of the Arban Complete Method for Trumpet was originally titled "First Studies." These very short etudes provide the conscientious tuba student ample material to review all the basic aspects of his/her approach to playing. One may utilize selected etudes to complement a regular warm-up routine or choose exercises that emphasize a deficiency or assist with a chronic problem.

This section of the Arban Method can be very valuable for use in remedial work for the student whose rhythmic sense is weak or who has simply not been properly trained in counting. Although it may seem a bit tedious, having the student count aloud and tap whole note and half note measures (with metronome), as well as quarter and eighth note etudes is time well spent.

The practice suggestions provided by the editor for groups of etudes are only suggestions for utilization of these studies. There are obviously many useful ways to approach them. Generally, it is suggested that the performer play these studies using a "normal" legato articulation and as full, smooth, and connected air stream as possible.

Etudes 1-6

Be certain you are thinking of "releasing" each note with the air—not "snatching" it with the tongue. Try starting the first note of each group with no tongue, relying only on the air to commence the tone. Remember that good intonation begins with hearing these simple intervals in perfect tune. When practicing with a tuner, be sure that you are practicing hearing intervals in tune, not just single notes, for in actual performance it is your ability to perform intervals well in tune that counts.

The image displays musical notation for six etudes, numbered 1 through 6. Each etude is written on a single staff in bass clef with a common time signature (C). Etude 1 consists of six whole notes: G2, F2, E2, D2, C2, and B1. Etude 2 consists of six quarter notes: G2, F2, E2, D2, C2, and B1. Etude 3 consists of six eighth notes: G2, F2, E2, D2, C2, and B1. Etude 4 consists of six eighth notes: G2, F2, E2, D2, C2, and B1, followed by a double bar line and six eighth notes: G2, F2, E2, D2, C2, and B1. Etude 5 consists of six eighth notes: G2, F2, E2, D2, C2, and B1, followed by a double bar line and six eighth notes: G2, F2, E2, D2, C2, and B1. Etude 6 consists of six eighth notes: G2, F2, E2, D2, C2, and B1, followed by a double bar line and six eighth notes: G2, F2, E2, D2, C2, and B1. A large, semi-transparent watermark for "stretta music" is overlaid on the right side of the page, with the text "COPYRIGHTED PREVIEW" repeated in a circular pattern around the logo.
