A Susan Sontag Reader:

A Susan Sontag Reader Susan Sontag, 2014-09-09 Susan Sontag occupies a special place in Modern American letters. She has become our most important critic while her brilliant novels and short fiction are at long last getting the recognition they deserve. Sontag is above all a writer which is only to say that though the form may differ there is an essential unity in all her work. The truth of this is perhaps more evident in A Susan Sontag Reader than in any of Sontag's individual books. The writer selected a sampling of her work meaning the choice both to reflect accurately a career and also to guide the reader toward those qualities and concerns which she prizes in her own writing. A Susan Sontag Reader is arranged chronologically and draws on most of Sontag's books. There are selections from her two novels The Benefactor and Death Kit and from her collections of short stories I etcetera. The famous essays from the 1960s Against Interpretation, Notes on Camp and On Style which established Sontag's reputation and can be fairly said to have shaped the cultural views of a generation are included as are selections from her two subsequent volumes of essays Styles of Radical Will and Under the Sign of Saturn. A part of Sontag's best-selling On Photography is also included. It is astonishing to read these works when they are detached from the books they appeared in and offered instead in the order in which Sontag wrote them. The connections between various literary forms, the progression of themes are revealed in often startling ways. Moreover, Sontag has included a long interview in which she moves more informally over the whole range of her concerns and of her work. The volume ends with Writing Itself, a previously uncollected essay on Roland Barthes which in the eyes of many is one of Sontag's finest achievements. This collection is in a sense both a self-portrait and a key for a reader to understand the work of one of the most important writers of our time.

A Susan Sontag Reader Susan Sontag, 1983 A Susan Sontag Reader Susan Sontag, 1982 At the Same Time Susan Sontag, 2007-03-06

A writer is someone who pays attention to the world. Susan Sontag said in her 2003 acceptance speech for the Peace Prize of the German Book Trade and no one exemplified this definition more than she. Sontag's incisive intelligence, expressive brilliance and deep curiosity about art, politics and the writer's responsibility to bear witness have secured her place as one of the most important thinkers and writers of the twentieth century. At the Same Time gathers sixteen essays and addresses written in the last years of Sontag's life when her work was being honored on the international stage that reflect on the personally liberating nature of literature, her deepest commitment and on political activism and resistance to injustice as an ethical duty. She considers the works of writers from the little-known Soviet novelist Leonid Tsypkin who struggled and eventually succeeded in publishing his only book days before his death to the greats such as Nadine Gordimer who enlarge our capacity for moral judgment. Sontag also fearlessly addresses the dilemmas of post-9/11 America from the degradation of our political rhetoric to the appalling torture of prisoners in Abu Ghraib. At the Same Time which includes a foreword by her son David Rieff is a passionate, compelling work from an American writer at the height of her powers who always saw literature as a passport to enter a larger life, the zone of freedom. I, etcetera Susan

Sontag,2013-10-01 In eight stories this singular collection of short fiction written over the course of ten years explores the terrain of modern urban life In reflective telegraphic prose Susan Sontag confronts the reader with exposed workings of an impassioned intellect in narratives seamed with many of the themes of her essays the nature of knowing our relationship with the past and the future in an alienated present The New York Intellectuals Reader Neil Jumonville,2013-10-31 In the early 1930 s in a small alcove at City College in New York a group of young passionate and politically radical students argued for hours about the finer points of Marxist doctrine the true nature of socialism and whether or not Stalin or Trotsky was the true heir to Lenin These young intellectuals went on to write for and found some of the most well known political and literary journals of the 20th century such as The Masses Politics Partisan Review Encounter Commentary Dissent and The Public Interest Figures such as Daniel Bell Nathan Glazer Sidney Hook Susan Sontag Dwight MacDonal and Seymour Lipset penned some of the most important books of social science in the mid twentieth century They believed above all else in the importance of argument and the power of the pen They were a vibrant group of engaged political thinkers and writers but most importantly they were public intellectuals committed to addressing the most important political social and cultural questions of the day Here with helpful head notes and a comprehensive introduction by Neil Jumonville The New York Intellectuals Reader brings the work of these thinkers back into conversation The Making of Dissidents Victoria Harms,2024-09-17 Before Hungary s transition from communism to democracy local dissidents and like minded intellectuals activists and academics from the West influenced each other and inspired the fight for human rights and civil liberties in Eastern Europe Hungarian dissidents provided Westerners with a new purpose and legitimized their public interventions in a bipolar world order The Making of Dissidents demonstrates how Hungary s Western friends shaped public perceptions and institutionalized their advocacy long before the peaceful revolutions of 1989 But liberalism failed to take root in Hungary and Victoria Harms explores how many former dissidents retreated and Westerners shifted their attention elsewhere during the 1990s paving the way for nationalism and democratic backsliding A Reader-response Approach to Susan Sontag's Death Kit Arnold Arthur Stead,1988 Writing and Victorianism J.B. Bullen,2014-06-06 Writing and Victorianism asks the fundamental question what is Victorianism and offers a number of answers taken from methods and approaches which have been developed over the last ten years This collection of essays written by both new and established scholars from Britain and the U S A develops many of the themes of nineteenth century studies which have lately come to the fore touching upon issues such as drugs class power and gender Some essays reflect the interaction of word and image in the nineteenth century and the notion of the city as spectacle others look at Victorian science finding a connection between writing and the growth of psychology and psychiatry on the one hand and with the power of scientific materialism on the other As well as key figures such as Dickens Tennyson and Wilde a host of new names are introduced including working class writers attempting to define themselves and writers in the Periodical press who once anonymous exercised a great influence over Victorian politics taste and social ideals From these observations there emerges a need for self definition in Victorian writing History ancestry and the past all play their part in figuring the present in the nineteenth century and many of these studies foreground the problem of literary social and psychological identity I, Etcetera Susan Sontag,1991 In eight stories this singular collection of short fiction written over the course of ten years explores the terrain of modern urban life In reflective telegraphic prose Susan Sontag confronts the reader with exposed workings of an impassioned intellect in narratives seamed with many of the themes of her essays the nature of knowing our relationship with the past and the future in an alienated present American Magic and Dread Mark Osteen,2000-06-19 A strongly argued analysis and close reading of DeLillo's works There is much here in the methodology and discussion of postmodern themes and techniques that will have relevance to American studies and cultural studies more widely Forum for Modern Language Studies The Reader's Adviser ,1986 Talking Verse ,1991 Tasting Life Twice Ramona Koval,2005 Draws on interviews the author has conducted for ABC Radio National's literary program Books and Writing Joseph Heller reveals how marvellous he found his own writing Gore Vidal is his acerbic best Susan Sontag takes issue with being called a public intellectual Joyce Carol Oates gives up on being a study in remoteness when she realises that Koval has read almost everything she has written Les Murray drives through his New South Wales district and introduces his dead relatives Judith Wright declares that there was no point to writing poetry after her beloved husband died Edna O'Brien says that writing is a holy job Ian McEwan praises the rational approach to life New Comparison ,1996 Post-Franco, Postmodern Kathleen M.
