Hawksmoor Peter Ackroyd, 1985 Integrating portraits of an eighteenth century architect and a modern London police inspector this novel focuses on two men both undergoing a process of disintegration and both involved in a series of similar murders The concept of time in Peter Ackroyd's "Hawksmoor" Anke Grundmann, 2005-05-14 Seminar paper from the year 2000 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 2.0 Bielefeld University Fakultät für Linguistik und Literaturwissenschaft course Prosa der Postmoderne language English abstract Usually a novel contains a beginning a middle and an end That is what the reader expects from the majority of books This convention is not only based on the presumption that only by this sequence of beginning middle and end a reader will find the reading of a novel rewarding but there are also theoretical concepts demanding this structure Mendilow points out that Aristotle was one of the first to stress the meaning of a general structure in a piece of literature According to Aristotle ein Ganzes ist was Anfang Mitte und Ende hat Ein Anfang ist was selbst nicht mit Notwendigkeit auf etwas anderes folgt nach dem jedoch natürlichlicherweise etwas anderes eintritt oder entsteht Ein Ende ist umgekehrt was selbst natürlichlicherweise auf etwas anderes folgt und zwar notwendigerweise oder in der Regel während nach ihm nichts anderes mehr eintritt Eine Mitte ist was sowohl selbst auf etwas anderes folgt als auch etwas anderes nach sich zieht This concept is true for realistic novels but it falls short for most of the postmodern novels In this paper I will show how the structure of a linear plot is given up in Peter Ackroyd's novel Hawksmoor The sequence of beginning middle and end evokes that all events are linked by a chain of causality In Hawksmoor the chain of causality and the linear concept of time are replaced by a circular concept of time The events in the novel and in particular the murders cannot be explained by the principle of causality In my paper I will analyse the concept of time in Ackroyd's novel As a first step I will point out the relation of the novel to the historical figure Nicholas Hawksmoor and summarise briefly the two plots so that on this basis the analogies and recurrences in each plot can be better understood Chapter 3 deals with the conception of characters because it is the repetition of characteristics biographies and attitudes of the characters that illustrate best the linear concept of time The character that is associated the most with this concept of time is the protagonist of the eighteenth century plot Nicholas Dyer Therefore I choose this figure for a detailed analysis in chapter 4 Hawksmoor X10 S/W Peter Ackroyd, 1988-01-01 Peter Ackroyd David Malcolm, 1995 Hawksmoor's London Churches Pierre de la Ruffinière du Prey, 2000 Six remarkable churches built by Nicholas Hawksmoor from 1712 to 1731 still stand in London In this book architectural historian Pierre de la Ruffinière du Prey examines these designs as a coherent whole a single masterpiece reflecting both Hawksmoor's design principles and his desire to reconnect architecturally with the purest days of Christianity Global Perspectives on Villains and Villainy Today, 2020-05-18 This e-book presents the findings of the 2nd global interdisciplinary conference on Villains and Villainy which was held at Oriel College Oxford in September 2010 as part of the research network Interdisciplinary Net Shadow-Makers Stephen

Kite,2017-10-19 The making of shadows is an act as old as architecture itself From the gloom of the medieval hearth through to the masterworks of modernism shadows have been an essential yet neglected presence in architectural history Shadow Makers tells for the first time the history of shadows in architecture It weaves together a rich narrative combining close readings of significant buildings both ancient and modern with architectural theory and art history to reveal the key places and moments where shadows shaped architecture in distinctive and dynamic ways It shows how shadows are used as an architectural instrument of form composition and visual effect while also exploring the deeper cultural context tracing differing conceptions of their meaning and symbolism whether as places of refuge devotion terror occult practice sublime experience or as metaphors of the unconscious Within a chronological framework encompassing medieval baroque enlightenment sublime picturesque and modernist movements a wide range of topics are explored from Hawksmoor's London churches Japanese temple complexes and the shade patterns of Islamic cities to Ruskin in Venice and Aldo Rossi and Louis Kahn in the 20th century This beautifully illustrated study seeks to understand the work of these shadow makers through their drawings their writings and through the masterpieces they built

The Postmodern Fantastic in Contemporary British Fiction Martin Horstkotte,2004 This study looks at the complex relationship between postmodernism and the fantastic in contemporary British fiction and shows that a new type of the fantastic arises in postmodernism Arguing against interpretations that view postmodernism as inherently fantastic it seeks to define the postmodern fantastic as a narrative mode that is influenced by certain traits both of the traditional fantastic and of literary postmodernism but does not simply conflate both In the first theoretical part a number of theories of the fantastic and of postmodernism are used to set the fantastic apart from other non mimetic forms of literature and to create a model of the postmodern fantastic that postulates the totalisation of the fantastic in postmodernism In the second part of this study this model is applied to a number of contemporary British texts which are particularly susceptible to this form of the fantastic due to several characteristics such as their muted kind of postmodernism and their frequent construction of parallel worlds The analysis of these texts focuses on four thematic fields of the postmodern fantastic the figure of the other as defined by Bernhard Waldenfels time and history text and textuality and the development of the Todorovian pure fantastic Finally the question of the death of the fantastic in postmodernism is examined
