Political Keywords Roderick P. Hart,2005 The Declaration of Independence states that all men are created equal in the United States but that statement does not hold true for words Some words carry more weight than others they seem to work harder get more done and demand more respect Political Keywords Using Language That Uses Us looks at eight dominant words that are crucial to American political discourse and how they have been employed during the last fifty years Based on an analysis of eleven separate studies of political language Political Keywords helps readers to understand what these terms mean and how they are used For example the book tracks what politics now means to modern commentators how school teachers impress certain values upon the nation s children by invoking the office of the president and why an innocent word like government sometimes makes people so upset It details how the people are referenced in political talk and how the media portray themselves The book also considers the work done by political parties political promises and political consultants because together they shed special light on modern elections Combining social science with subtle forms of cultural interpretation Political Keywords Using Language That Uses Us provides a fresh look at both American politics and American language It is an ideal text for undergraduate and graduate courses in political communication political language political campaigns media and politics political psychology public opinion rhetorical criticism contemporary public address and presidential rhetoric Publisher Guide to Environment and Development Institute of Development Studies (Brighton, England),1998 The information gap regarding quality mailing telephone the type of information available The CD ROM information and or Internet location are given This Guide also offers guidelines on how to use the Internet Communications ,2006 Australian Studies in Journalism ,2005 Online Information ... ,1998 International Online Information Meeting ,1998 Journal of International and Area Studies ,2004
