

The background of the cover is a grid of light gray lines on a white surface. In the center, there is a blue and white geometric shape, possibly a stylized letter 'M' or a similar symbol. Overlaid on this is a large, detailed image of a metal compass and divider. The compass is open, with its two legs extending downwards and outwards. The top part of the compass is a circular ring. The legs have fine teeth and a sharp point. The overall image is a high-quality photograph of the tools, likely used in geometry or technical drawing.
