Transitive And Intransitive Verbs English Grammar:

Transitive and Intransitive Verbs: English Verb Types Manik Joshi, 2020-09-14 A verb can be described as transitive or intransitive based on whether it requires an object to express a complete thought or not. A transitive verb is a verb that requires takes or allows an object to receive the action. Object may be in the form of a noun phrase or pronoun that refers to the person or thing that is affected by the action of the verb. A sentence with a transitive verb can generally be changed into passive voice however sometimes a transitive verb cannot be used in the passive voice. A transitive verb can't stand alone with only a subject. An intransitive verb does not take an object. However there may take prepositional phrases or adverbs. Adding adverbs or prepositional phrases modifies the verb but doesn't change its meaning. A sentence with an intransitive verb can never be changed into a passive voice. Some verbs have multiple meanings and can be transitive or intransitive depending on the sense in which they are used. In some instances a verb may require an object while in others it does not require an object. Based on their transitive or and intransitive uses verbs may be categorized as follows:

- 01 Verbs that are usually used only transitively for all their meanings/senses
- 02 Verbs that are usually used only intransitively for all their meanings/senses
- 03 Verbs that are usually used both transitively and intransitively for all their meanings/senses
- 04 Verbs that are used only transitively for one or more particular meanings/senses but also used only intransitively for one or more particular meanings/senses
- 05 Verbs that are used only transitively for one or more particular meanings/senses but also used both transitively and intransitively for one or more particular meanings/senses
- 06 Verbs that are used only intransitively for one or more particular meanings/senses but also used both transitively and intransitively for one or more particular meanings/senses
- 07 Verbs that are used only transitively for one or more particular meanings/senses but also used only intransitively for one or more particular meanings/senses and also used both transitively and intransitively for one or more particular meanings/senses
