They also are perfect models for teachers and college students to use in creating their own lessons. The text includes instructional strategies such as how to teach for transfer, utilize grids and small games, differentiate instruction for varying ability levels, integrate conceptual material, and more. The book is organized into two parts. Part I explores issues pertinent to planning for high schoolers' success, including how to plan lessons using SHAPE America's Grade Level Outcomes, meeting the National Standards and Grade Level Outcomes, developing an electives-based program for high school students, and the importance of teaching for student learning. The lesson plans themselves are found in Part II, and each lesson aligns with SHAPE America's National Standards and Grade Level Outcomes for K-12 Physical Education. Part II offers plans in these categories: Outdoor pursuits, Individual performance activities, Net and wall games such as badminton and tennis, Target games, Dance and rhythms, Fitness activities such as Pilates, resistance training, and yoga, Personal fitness assessment and planning. Each category contains modules of 15 or 16 lessons, each of which incorporates various National Standards and Grade Level Outcomes. For example, you can address Standard 4 outcomes, which are about personal and social responsibility, during lessons on net and wall games, lessons on dance and rhythms, and so on. With the high-quality lesson content and the many tools and resources provided, Lesson Planning for High School Physical Education will help teachers foster their students' physical literacy and help students develop physically active lifestyles that they can maintain throughout their adult lives.
