Restaurants and Dining Rooms Franziska Bollerey, Christoph Grafe, 2019-03-26 According to urban academic myth the first restaurants emerged in the wake of the French Revolution From the very beginning in the elegant salons of the latter days of the Ancien R gime the design of restaurants has been closely related to ideas of how food should be presented and how it may be consumed in public The appearance and atmosphere created by restaurant owners reflects culturally embedded ideals of comfort sociability and the good life As a product of the modern metropolis the restaurant encapsulates and illustrates the profound change in how its patrons viewed themselves as individuals how they used their cities and how they met friends or business partners over a meal The architectural design of environments for the consumption of food necessarily involves an exploration and a manipulation of the human experience of space It reflects ideas about public and private behaviour for which the restaurant offers a stage Famous architects were commissioned to provide designs for restaurants in order to lure in an ever more demanding urban clientele The interior designs of restaurants were often employed to present this particular aspect in consciously evoking an imagery of sophisticated modernity This book presents the restaurant its cultural and typological history as it evolved over time In this unique combination it provides valuable knowledge for designers and students of design and for everyone interested in the cultural history of the modern metropolis

Design History Beyond the Canon Jennifer Kaufmann-Buhler, Victoria Rose Pass, Christopher Wilson, 2019-02-07 Design History Beyond the Canon subverts hierarchies of taste which have dominated traditional narratives of design history The book explores a diverse selection of objects spaces and media ranging from high design to mass produced and mass marketed objects as well as counter cultural and sub cultural material The authors research highlights the often marginalised role of gender and racial identity in the production and consumption of design the politics which underpins design practice and the role of designed objects as pathways of nostalgia and cultural memory While focused primarily on North American examples from the early 20th century onwards this collection also features essays examining European and Soviet design history as well as the influence of Asia and Africa on Western design practice The book is organised in three thematic sections Consumers Intermediaries and Designers The first section analyses a range of designed objects and spaces through the experiences and perspectives of users The second section considers intermediaries from both technology and cultural industries as well as the hidden labour within the design process itself The final section focuses on designers from multiple design disciplines including high fashion industrial design interior design graphic design and design history pedagogy The essays in all three sections utilise different research methods and a wide range of theoretical approaches including feminist theory critical race theory spatial theory material culture studies science and technology studies and art history

Design History Beyond the Canon brings together the most recent research which stretches beyond the traditional canon and looks to interdisciplinary methodologies to better understand the practice and consumption of design

Interiors Steven Parissien, 2009 The development of the domestic interior is a history of consumption and taste In Interiors The Home since 1700 for the first time this story is set against the cultural and industrial changes taking place in the western world since the seventeenth century Unlike almost all previous histories this book does not deal exclusively with the grand houses of the aristocracy Steven Parissiens masterly text concentrates rather on the homes of the merchants and middle classes who have been the first to take advantage of new technologies to furnish and decorate their homes Fully illustrated with contemporary plates from catalogues and books as well as paintings and photography this beautiful book traces a constantly absorbing and often surprising story as it took place all over Western Europe and North America Ideal for all students of and enthusiasts for the domestic interior and period settings Steven Parissiens strong narrative explains not simply what happened but why
